Members of the Granite City Council voted Tuesday to hire up to eight temporary men in the street and engineering departments, so they can start repairs on the city's 25 sewer breaks. The council also approved a measure to hire a consultant to assist the city officers in acquiring federal grants to fund the sewer repairs. Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield said his department will be hiring the necessary workers within the next three weeks to start on the repairs. The workers will be hired from the Teamsters and Laborers unions at a rate of $11 an hour. War- (Continued on Page 7)

$1 million in repairs needed

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
The most seriously needed building improvements in the Granite City school district total $1 million, Supt. B.J. Davis reported Tuesday night.

Twin studies in the next few days will deal with financing and a determination of which projects require architectural plans and which do not.

MANY RENOVATIONS need to be carried out this summer, Board Pres. David Partney said. Insurance may help pay for some roof replacements due to recent storms, School Treasurer Kelly Hogan noted.

Supt. Davis at the March 27 Board of Education meeting proposed a school tax election in November 1984.

It has not been decided whether major school repairs are to be paid for through a referendum, borrowing, use of proceeds from the sale of school buildings, or other sources. But there appears to be agreement that they cannot be delayed much longer.

FOR MAY 15 decisions are adoption of the 1984-85 school calendar and redefining of several school administrative jobs, Supt. Davis said after the meeting, which ended at 12:50 a.m. Wednesday.

Pending calendar proposals would start classes in mid or late August or early September, and end them in early or mid June. A survey will be taken to determine school employees' preference.

Another survey will seek to learn which students would enroll in a Latin course if one is offered as a 1984-85 after-school program, with tuition charged.

THERE IS MUCH interest in Latin, but time is running short to change the basic curriculum, due to detailed class scheduling and schedule conflict resolving tasks, a discussion showed.

Mrs. Marilyn Ronney, a teacher, recalled studying Latin for four years as a GCHS student and said she believes enrollment would exceed 100 if all students became aware Latin was available to them to meet colleges' two-year foreign language requirement.

The board conferred with Fred Moriarty, representing Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., he presented findings on high school secretarial tasks.

Sale of the former Washington School to Masco (Walter Arner) for $22,367 under a contract for deed received final board approval. Interest of 11 percent will be paid for five years, totaling $5,108.

BY A 4-2 VOTE, the board authorized the GCHS band to perform at Assessor Von Dee Cruise's "happening" at 7 p.m. Friday, May 25, at the Washington Theater if Director Joseph Owens determines that the band is available.

Cruise is to pay the band's transportation and has said he would delay political discussions until after the students have left the building.

Band participation was supported by Pres. Partney, Treas. Hogan, Mrs. Ruth LaRue and Dewey Melton, who was acting secretary for the meeting. Sec. Thomas Miosky was out-of-town on business, and Monroe Worthen and Alan Crider opposed involving the band.

Shrine Circus planned

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record
Gene Morris, potentate of Ainsad Shrine, has announced plans for the 18th annual parade in Granite City. Involving many organizations and civic groups, the event on Monday evening, June 4, will precede a series of local performances of the Shrine circus.

Decorated floats, performing motorized units and other organizations will be included in the big parade under the direction of Bob Ashcraft and Darold Dickerson, co-chairmen.

PARADE ENTRIES are to be registered with Ashcraft before May 18. He can be contacted by calling 1-656-7291. It was announced, "Circus" and "Summer Fun" will be the themes for this year's parade, and trophies will be awarded. The best float will be selected, with all entries judged on originality, beauty and ingenuity.

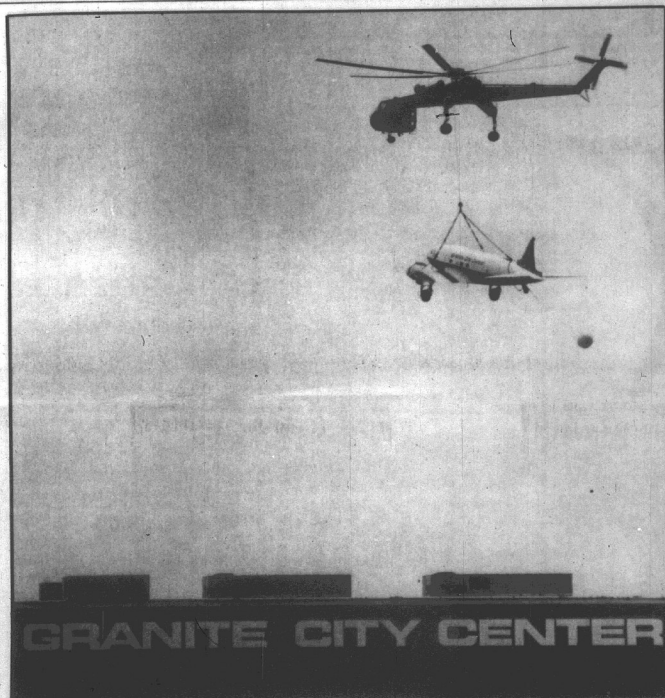

AGAIN THIS YEAR, plaques and ribbons will be presented to area school children who enter a poster contest related to the annual benefit circus.

Sid Strohede will serve as float chairman.

Randy Burton is to be the Granite City circus chairman and Kelly Hogan is the parade marshal for all four parades to be staged in the territory served by Ainsad. Both are Ainsad officers.

Shrine circus parades are scheduled in Olney on May 28, DuQuoin on June 2, Granite City on June 4 and Belleville on June 8.

CIRCUS PERFORMANCES at the four locations will follow the parades. The circus will be presented in Olney on May 29 and 30, DuQuoin on June 2 and 3, Granite City on June 5, 6 and 7 and Belleville on June 9 and 10.

AIRLIFT'S END. A 40-year-old DC-3 airplane flies above the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College early this week before landing in an adjacent field. The wingless aircraft was one of two moved from Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia to the local campus by the 137th Transportation Company Heavy Helicopter Crew of the Kansas Army National Guard. A CH-54 Skycrane airlifted this plane and an F-84 fighter, each weighing more than 7 tons, to GCC for use in its aviation maintenance classes. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Man, 77, dies in crash

Frank Tomasek, 77, of 2019 Hildebrand Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, was fatally injured in an accident Tuesday on Route 162 one-eighth of a mile west of Interstates 70-55 near Troy and was pronounced dead at the scene at 5 p.m. by Jim Laughlin, Madison County deputy coroner.

According to the Troy Police Department, the automobile of Mr. Tomasek was traveling at a high rate of speed and ran a stop sign going onto Route 162 when it hit a tractor-trailer truck driven by Bobbie Dehart of Lucasville, Ohio, who escaped injury.

TOMASEK'S car went under the trailer of the vehicle upon impact, the police said.

It is believed Mr. Tomasek may have fallen asleep while driving or possibly suffered a heart attack, but at the present time this has not been verified by officials investigating the accident.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Conference on school improvements slated for Collinsville on May 5

State Representatives Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia), Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) and Michael Slape (D-Pocahontas) have announced they will host a local meeting of Illinois House Speaker Michael Madigan's "Conference on Education Reform and School Improvement" May 5.

The local hearing is scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Collinsville Hilton and is open to all area educators, parents and other "friends of education."

"We have accepted Speaker Madigan's offer to convene this Community Conference on Education in Collinsville because we believe the residents of St. Clair, Bond, Madison and Clinton counties deserve an opportunity to express their opinions concerning the education of their children," Flinn said.

The speaker has conducted similar hearings throughout the state to focus attention on a broad range of educational issues. Among those discussed are possible ways to improve and monitor teacher performance, the role of state government in upgrading educational standards and attempts to make more resources available for necessary school improvements.

"This conference will provide an excellent opportunity for local educators to participate in formulating state education policy," Wolf said. "We would encourage interested persons to attend and take part in these discussions, and determine the direction education is to take in Illinois."

According to Slape, the legislature passed a measure last session which would "toughen graduation standards," but higher standards are meaningless unless we give our teachers the tools they need to prepare their students to compete successfully in today's job markets.

"In order for teachers to properly equip today's students for tomorrow's jobs, more attention must be paid to 'high-tech' and computer sciences," Slape said. "In order for schools to be able to offer these courses on the limited revenue available, efforts must be made to allow local flexibility as to what curriculum will be made available," he added.

Rabies clinic at Nameoki May 5

At last week's Nameoki Town Board meeting, Trustee W. Lee Adams reported that a rabies clinic will be conducted by Dr. Timothy Holt Saturday, May 5, from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., where pets may be inoculated for rabies, distemper and parvo virus at a reduced cost.

Board members approved a resolution calling for a street in the township previously named "Cedar Lane" to be changed to "Cedarview Lane." They also approved the reappointment of Irene Karlechick for a three-year term as trustee for the Long Lake Fire Protection District.

BURGLAR OBTAINS TV SET

A $300 color TV set was taken from the apartment of Walter Boyd, 2411a State St., last week by a burglar who broke door glass. In an unrelated burglary, an unknown amount of coins—quarters, halves and dollars—and several items of jewelry were taken from the Bob Kmucha home at 1921 St. Clair Ave.

Hartigan pleased about ban on Grafton fleeing plan

Attorney General Neil Hartigan's office is claiming "a major environmental victory" in federal court late last week, when Judge William Beatty of the U.S. District Court in Alton voided a permit issued by the Army Corps of Engineers to National Marine Service for a barge fleeing facility near Grafton.

The order voided the permit because it was issued in violation of the National Environmental Policy Act, which is aimed at ensuring that federal agencies consider environmental effects in their actions.

Hartigan's office argued in its suit filed in March of 1983 that allowing a barge fleeing facility at Grafton would irreparably damage a large mussel bed and would detract from the scenic beauty along the "cat River Road. The suit also maintained that the facility would disrupt recreational uses of the river and the Great River Road.

Judge Beatty's ruling determined that the Corps of Engineers gave insufficient consideration to the potential damage to the environment and to alternatives to the fleeing area that could avoid damage to the environment. The Judge's decision means that a fleeing permit cannot be granted for a facility at the Grafton site until the Corps properly considers environmental effects.

"The Mississippi River is one of this country's most precious national treasures," Hartigan said. "We must ensure that it is preserved in its natural state so that future generations can enjoy its beauty."

"The beauty and recreational value of the Mississippi River must be maintained at the same time that economic factors are considered," Hartigan said. "But the balance should not swing too far in one direction at the expense of the other."

Hartigan praised the citizens and organizations that joined his office in opposing the fleeing permit. They include the River Road Alliance, the Coalition for the Environment and Charles F. Hobbs.

Donations announced for energy assistance program

The Energy Assistance Foundation has announced that it has received $49,204 in contributions as a result of its first fund-raising campaign. The money will be used to help needy persons conserve energy and reduce their utility bills.

In addition to the money raised, Illinois Power Company will match the funds generated in the campaign. The money raised represents more than 8,000 individual contributions.

"We are very pleased with the response from the people to 'Help a Neighbor Keep a Neighbor Warm' request," said Harid E. Powell, executive director of the foundation. The foundation is mailing thank you acknowledgements to all contributors.

The Decatur-based foundation began in December 1982 with an initial grant of $250,000 from Illinois Power Company. The utility will match other contributions up to an additional $250,000.

Anyone wishing to donate to the fund can send contributions to the foundation at Post Office Box A1749, Decatur, Ill. 62525.

Percy stresses importance of exports

U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) stressed the importance of exports and federal procurement in improving the business climate of Illinois during last week's Collinsville Business Conference at the Collinsville Hilton. Percy said, "It is essential that we continue to explore areas that can provide Illinois businesses with opportunities for expansion and growth. Two such areas are exporting and procurement."

The Collinsville Business Conference, sponsored by Ron Stephens, a Collinsville businessman and the Republican candidate for State Representative for the 100th District, was similar to three Illinois Business Development Conferences sponsored by Percy in 1982.

"In 1982, I held a series of Business Development Conferences throughout the state — in fact, one was right here in Collinsville — which focused on exports and federal procurement," Percy said. "Just as these two areas were important back in 1982 as the country was pulling itself out of the recession, they are important to Illinois businesses right now because they represent two major growth areas for businesses and provide promising markets for the future."

Percy pointed out that protectionist policies in the long run can only damage the U.S. "The way to meet the competition still thrives. The international marketplace is not a stranger to us. We rank third in the nation in terms of exporting states. And in towns all over the state, large segments of the work-force depend on exports."

IN THE SPOTLIGHT. John Manogian (center) acts as emcee and interviewer for the Academy Awards program at the Township Hall Monday night. Academy Awards come to GC

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Eighth grade students enrolled in Edward Schroeder's seminar class didn't know what they were in for when they arrived at the Granite City Township Hall Monday night. Students were told they would be attending a dinner, but what they weren't told, was that the dinner would be topped off with a few sprinkles of Hollywood.

Schroeder, who also is a German and English teacher at the junior high, arranged "a night to remember" for the students, complete with limousine escorts, awards, entertainment and coverage from the news media — a mini-version of the Academy Awards.

SCHROEDER said the idea for the special program came about when his two classes of academically gifted eighth graders became bored with their school project of producing a pair of 30-minute television shows. "After four weeks of struggling with script writing, with technical training on cameras, audio gear, lighting and with decision making as to which person would do what, mutinous grumblings began to surface," he said.

"Realizing that I had to come up with the proverbial carrot to dangle before them, I struck up a deal with both groups," he said. "With absolutely nothing in mind, I told them that if they completed this project, I would give them a night to remember, something spectacular."

Schroeder said he feels the evening was a success.

STUDENTS were told they were to arrive at 6:45 p.m. Monday at Coolidge Junior High with their parents. The students were then chauffeured to Township Hall in limousines. Upon arrival, students found a red carpet from curbside, bright sky-lighting spotlights and a group of screaming fans composed of parents and students. They also were met by an interviewer on a platform, ready to interview them.

Once inside, the students feasted on a dinner of chicken, wild rice and cheesecake. Afterwards, song and dance were provided by the McCluer North High School Swing Choir, and members of the Salem Dance Center.

John Manogian acted as master-of-ceremonies for the event, introducing the acts and award presenters for the evening. Presenters included: Nancy Marti, assistant principal of Coolidge; Ray Grinter, director of the Gifted Area Service Center; David Partney, president of the Granite City Board of Education; Michael Sikora, principal of Coolidge; and B.J. Davis, superintendent of the Granite City Schools.

STUDENTS were awarded replicas of the actual awards given at the "real" Academy Awards. Categories awarded included best supporting actress, best supporting actor, best commercial, best cinematographer, best technical director, best writer, best director, best actress, best actor and best television production.

The program was funded in part by the students' parents and also by the gifted fund.

The event was attended by more than 180 persons.

MEXICAN COMMISSION CLUB IS BURGALARIZED

A burglary at the Mexican Honorary Commission clubhouse, 1801 Spruce St., discovered Sunday morning, netted the intruder about $364 from a cash register drawer and cash box, five cases of beer, a bottle of whiskey and an undetermined amount of change from a cigarette machine.

Richard Serrano, manager, said an interior door leading to the bar area was forced and the door to a liquor storage room also was pried open.

It was theorized that someone may have remained in the club's basement area after closing hours. Property was being inventoried to determine if other items are missing.

A sad but important reminder

This is Holocaust Commemoration Week in Illinois, part of the international observance of the death of six million Jewish men, women and children less than 40 years ago, when Nazis sought to exterminate the religious group during World War II.

A crime of such magnitude is extremely sad to recall, but nevertheless important to remember—to aid in assuring that such horrors are not repeated. Appropriately, a special memorial service was held Thursday at the Old State Capitol in Springfield. The state proclamation of April 29-May 6 activities calls for education, vigilance and resistance to prejudice.

It relates that "the people of Illinois should continually dedicate themselves to the principle of equal justice for all, remaining eternally vigilant against all tyranny and recognizing that bigotry provides a breeding ground for tyranny to flourish."

First thing to do is hand him a pair of scissors, give him his credit cards and tell him to start cutting.

'Separation of church, state' rulings block Agape school plan for Nameoki Proposed leasing of idle Nameoki Grade School as a Christian school was turned down Tuesday night by the Granite City Board of Education, which cited legal factors.

An opinion by School Attorney William W. Schooley related that "the U.S. and Illinois Constitutions mandate the separation of church and state and prohibit all governments, whether federal, state or local, from participating in the affairs of any religious organization or group."

"In the words of Jefferson, the constitutional clause against establishment of religion by law was intended to erect 'a wall of separation between church and state.'"

"In interpreting these constitutional provisions, the courts have consistently held that government cannot aid, promote, encourage or sustain religious teaching or observances."

"Moreover, any governmental action which raises the question of separation of church and state will be upheld only if (1) the action reflects a clear secular purpose, (2) its primary effect neither advances nor inhibits religion and (3) it does not foster an excessive government entanglement with religion."

"After a review of the applicable law, it is my opinion that the lease of a piece of state-owned property such as Nameoki School to a religious organization or group which would utilize the property as a private, sectarian school would indeed violate the constitutional mandate of separation of church and state."

"The lease of Nameoki... would bestow upon that organization or group a government benefit not available to others, which would tend to preserve and support their particular religious views and opinions."

"Under such a proposal, a state-owned and supported property would be utilized not just for secular educational functions but also for the purpose of religious indoctrination."

"One of our most basic and cherished freedoms is the right to practice one's religious beliefs openly and freely. The foundation upon which this freedom rests is the constitutional mandate of the separation of church and state."

"With much public debate being generated today concerning the role of religion in our public schools, it must be emphasized that the intrusion of government into sectarian matters directly endangers our religious freedom and does so no matter how well intentioned the justification for the intrusion may be," Schooley concluded.

Attorney Wm. W. Schooley III told the board that only outright purchase of the building would enable the Agape Fellowship, composed of a number of local churches, to establish a school for grade and high school pupils there.

The most recent discussion had occurred April 10, when Pastor Tom Edwards, Agape president, proposed that the school be leased for a token amount. He said the Fellowship planned to spend much to heat and improve the school and to maintain it against deterioration. He said churches would share the cost along with parents of the Christian students.

The board placed in its meeting record a letter from Pastor Edwards on the proposed Community Christian Interdenominational School.

The Agape Fellowship president had spoken at the March 27 board meeting and Supt. Davis met with a committee of the group March 29. The letter followed the session.

Pastor of the Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon Road, Edwards said the Fellowship is composed of approximately 25 to 30 pastors and congregations "who have been under pressure to begin Christian schools" in their existing church facilities.

"EACH PASTOR was not aware of the others' congregations having a strong desire to open such schools," the letter pointed out.

"During a meeting of our fellowship in November 1983, this discussion came into focus and a committee was formed to investigate the possibility of our cooperating in an effort together to open one school that could be administered by the fellowship."

"This effort could provide a more broad-based approach to community Christian education with interdenominational participation. There was unanimity to investigate this possibility," Edwards related.

"The committee, of which I was appointed chairman, was to find a facility."

"ASBMSUCH AS SIX schools were closed and were not to be used, in fact going up for disposal by the school board, we began considering the possibility of reopening Nameoki School."

"Primary reasons for selection of this facility were its central location and the fact that it was originally built for a junior high school. Since we are planning grades kindergarten through 12th, Nameoki became our prime selection."

"This selection was greater advanced when we learned the board desired to hold this particular school for possible reopening at some future date."

"We then met with Mr. Davis and presented our proposition verbally—our desire to reopen Nameoki at our expense as a community Christian school. It was agreed that the school board and taxpayers to keep up and maintain an unused facility."

"It was and is our thinking that this could provide a mutual and desirable situation for both sides. We would reopen, at our expense, an educational facility—built with tax dollars for the express purpose of community education—and allow this school to continue its designated purpose."

"At the same time we would protect, insure, maintain and keep up the school and grounds until such time that the board would need it for some future reopening or disposal."

"At that time, with proper notification, we would then find a factor seemed to be present and we were much disappointed that the board did not seem to see it that way."

"This 'no action' by the board (during the winter) did not lessen time that the board would be present. Our Community Christian Interdenominational School," the pastor noted.

"We began to look at other options, while at the same time circulated petitions to show community support for our endeavor—in order that we might present to the board this show of support from Unit District Nine citizens for what we are trying to accomplish."

"IN A VERY SHORT time, with little effort, there were over 1,000 voluntary signatures on the petition to the school board to enter into negotiations with us to lease Nameoki School for our intention to begin a Christian school for our community."

"We took a survey among our Agape Fellowship churches and the results show overwhelming support for the areas of enrollment, finance and active participation in many areas."

"The known enrollment from the fellowship we can now project to be approximately 169."

"We have further documented over 50 students who are now committed to Christian schools outside our community—Alton, Roxana, Collinsville, St. Louis, etc.—that we will be able to bring back into our community. We feel sure that this is much too conservative a figure to be realistic."

"The school would be supported by tuition, individual contributions, fellowship church contributions, fund raising, etc."

"GOALS INCLUDE setting up a scholarship fund for low-income students. It will be supported by contributions, enabling us to serve the whole community and not just the wealthy and middle-income families."

"Our group feels that we not only have a mutually profitable proposal but that we share a mutual interest with the Unit Nine school board in quality education."

"Without Nameoki School, other options that we would be forced to exercise would not in my opinion give us as much quality, using our own facilities, as would Nameoki. The school was designed for conventional classroom settings and educational purposes."

"After attending several board meetings, it is my sincere belief that this board shares a common ground with our group. I am praying that this can be communicated in a positive way to the board members and I solicit their supportive action on our proposition."

"Would you like to live in the smoking or non-smoking section of town?"

Readers React

In light of the ongoing controversy surrounding smoking in public places, people were asked Wednesday if smoking should be prohibited at all in public places, and if so, where?

Jo Feigl, Granite City

"I feel smokers have the right to smoke, but non-smokers have the right not to breathe in second-hand smoke. I think it should be curtailed in public places. Either have sections in restaurants and other public places or do away with smoking altogether."

Vince Lohmann, a Granite City businessman

"I'm not a smoker, but I don't believe it belongs in public eating places, especially in fast-food restaurants and the like. People who don't smoke shouldn't have to contend with a cloud of smoke in public places."

Paula Roberts, Granite City

"Yes, in a lot of places, I think there should at least be no smoking sections in restaurants and other places."

Daphne Allen, Granite City

"I'm in favor of prohibiting smoking in public places, but I know if I was a smoker I'd think the other way. Smoking shouldn't be allowed in confined areas like waiting rooms, airplanes and buses."

Questions the safety at day care centers

To the Editor:

A grandmother's most precious treasures are her grandchildren, and when something happens to threaten the life of those grandchildren, the painful emotional burden endured by a grandmother is almost intolerable.

This happened to me on Monday, April 23, when my son-in-law called me after an emotionally taxing day at the office, to relate this story.

My daughter took my 3-year-old grandson to a church affiliated Day Care Center in Granite City, for a few hours while she ran some errands. He just turned three the day before. When she returned to pick him up, a lady at the center told her that her son left the center and some woman driving down Maryville Road saw him walking down the street, picked him up, and took him to the center, thinking he may belong there.

Can you believe that? Can you believe the emotional impact this has had on the mother, the father and me, the grandmother?

Think about what could have happened. My grandson could have been killed. Maryville Road is a 35-mph, four-lane highway at this location. There are storm sewers along this stretch of road, which he could have fallen into. The lady who picked him up in her car could have just as easily been a pervert of some kind who could have inflicted untold physical/emotional damage on this child. Divine Providence put this kind of lady at the scene instead of a demented being.

Is our babysitter licensed? In Missouri, church-affiliated Day Care Centers do not have to be licensed. Are our Illinois church-affiliated Day Care Centers licensed?

If not, why not?

This could have happened to anyone's child. Fortunately, it didn't turn into a tragedy, but it could have!

Blames ruined life on drug, alcohol abuse

To the Editor:

One of my problems in life has been doing what I think everyone would want me to do, not what I want. I've done my share of time behind bars and I don't need to tell you what it's like. Go home and lock yourself into the bathroom and have someone feed you three times a day and take you out into the yard for an hour every day. Maybe then you can understand my world.

I'm proud of what I'm reading in the Press-Record World and I hope I read more of it. We can't beat the message into the brains of the youth out there and no one can stop drugs from being in and around the schools.

I truthfully believe guys like myself can get the message into the heads of at least a few youths. Why? Because whatever you kids out there think you can say to justify the use of drugs and alcohol, you can't turn me away. I'm you, I've been there.

I know there's a better way and I pray to God you see that before it's too late.

I could never believe what older people tried to tell me about drugs. I'd say they don't understand. Well,

I do understand now.

I'd gladly trade all those fast-lived parties I've had, but that's too late. You don't have to be like everyone else to be yourself.

Don't kill yourself or blind your life with drugs. Remember, I'm you — just a little older.

I'm doing 20 years. I've parted all my life. Now I'm paying for it.

Again, good work Press-Record and staff. Guys like myself understand what you are trying to do. God bless you for it. Too bad some don't want to hear. Thanks, and Student feels school violated his rights

To the Editor:

I am a junior attending Granite City High School. I wish to expose the unfairness practiced by the school administrators on dealing with student-teacher conflicts.

On April 28, I was approximately 10 seconds late to homeroom. I asked my homeroom teacher, whose name I will not mention, if he would admit me to class or if I should sign in late in the attendance office. He permitted me to enter class, only to lecture me on tardiness and humiliate me in front of the other students.

I then told him that I would go to the attendance office and sign in. He responded by shouting at me and told me to leave and said he didn't want to see my face in his class again. I found this very insulting and degrading, since he said this to me in front of the other students.

As I walked out of the classroom, the teacher went into the hall and repeated what he said before. I found it so provoking that I lost my temper and called him a profane word. I was then sent to the vice principal's office, where I explained what happened to him. He then had a meeting with the school principal and my homeroom teacher. After this meeting, the vice principal told me I was to be suspended for five days and changed to a different homeroom.

I feel I was treated very unfairly. I was provoked and harassed by my teacher, then punished for responding to this harassment. I feel my rights as a student were violated.

The student handbook clearly states that if a problem arises between a teacher and a student, it should be discussed "with no other students present." It also states that a student has a right to "be treated with respect by the teacher."

I was humiliated in front of everyone and treated with no respect. The administrators of my school found it fit to overlook these rules, two of the few that protect the student.

Annual May fiesta Saturday

Folkloric dances and traditional food will highlight the annual "Cinco de Mayo Fiesta," sponsored by the Granite City Mexican Honorary Commission, at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 5.

The public is invited to attend the festive event, which will take place in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center. Music for general dancing will be presented by the Los Amigos Orchestra, following the folkloric performance.

Tickets, costing $2.50 for adults and 50¢ for children, will be available at the door Saturday night. The gala fiesta celebrates the victory of the Mexican people in the "Battle of Puebla." The battle was fought in 1862 and proved to be the major turning point in the revolutionary war to free Mexico. Authentic costumes will be worn by the Mexican Honorary Commission's folkloric dancers, who will be under the direction of Toni Short and Lisa Garcia Pensternan.

Ricky Serrano is serving as assistant program director and the costumes are being arranged by Rose Grull.

To open the program, David Mendoza will sing the national anthems of the United States and Mexico, and Ofelia Antof will serve as master-of-ceremonies. It was announced. Selections and featured performers in the artistic segment will include:

"La Vansovania"—Beth Ann Valencia, Jennifer Stokotte, Trisha Sedabres, Melody Barnes, Janet Serrano, Christina Short, Nina Serrano, Mark Harper, Billie Tindall, Christopher Widell, Carl Benson, Tony Hull, David Wilson III and Christopher Valencia.

"Colas"—Wesley Grim and Kathy Moore and Ronnie Grim and Sarita Garcia.

"Las Chipanecas"—Shannon Short, Andrea Valencia, Nona Merford, Nikki Hull, Angela Serrano, Angie Kovach, Emily Slitch, Lela Mendoza, Rhonda Benson and Christie Wheatley.

Wheatley and Jeff Koleff, Sherrie Burris and Michael Grim, Amy Donaldson and Rickie Valencia.

Becky Garcia and Richard Mendoza, Marta Mendoza and Johnny Sastoriza and Jeanie Robles and Salvador Torro.

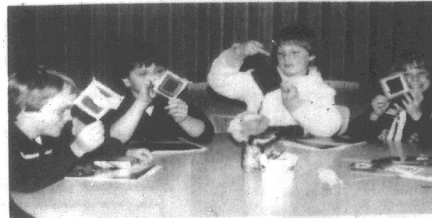

"Jarabe Tapitio"—Bob Galvan and Debbie Thick, Richard Mendoza and Becky Garcia and Ernie Walker and Shannon Short.

Community fiestas marking the Cinco de Mayo (Fifth of May) celebration were inaugurated by the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City in the early 1920's to continue the national tradition which is observed throughout Mexico.

Most of the colorful costumes worn by the folkloric dancers were brought from Mexico. Many are lavishly embellished with hand embroidered motifs and complement the authentic folk dances and fiesta decorations.

Initially, the celebrations were held at the Lincoln Place Community Center. As participation expanded, the event was transferred to the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall in Venice and later was moved to the Mexican Honorary Commission's Hall at 1801 Spruce St.

More recently, the fiesta has been staged at the Nameoki Bingo Center.

Scouting skill show Saturday

Skills mastered by cubs, scouts and explorers of the Unihav Boy Scout District will be on exhibit Saturday at the ice skating rink in Wilson Park.

The annual Scout-O-Rama is set to start at noon. During opening ceremonies, all units will display their flags.

Special attractions will include the presence of the Granite City fire department's newly-delivered ambulance from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

The canine unit of the Madison County sheriff department will be spotlighted at 2 p.m., and there will be a "tap-out" Indian ceremony by the Order of the Arrow at 4 p.m.

Indian dancers with lighted torches will be featured. The Order of the Arrow is an elite scouting group that promotes camping and uses Indian folklore as its theme.

The day's closing ceremony is set for 6 p.m. Saturday.

Packs, troops and posts have been spending much time this spring preparing for the 1984 scouting skill show. Overall theme is "Things That Fly."

About 400 youngsters and teenagers will participate by operating more than two dozen booths.

These action projects and displays will include kite making, bicycle safety, varied Indian crafts, model railroading, a dunking booth, cooking, magic, science and a demonstration of "pinewood derby" miniature racing car competition. The cars are carved by cub scouts from wood blocks.

Explorers will operate a dart-board area, and Boy Scouts' plans include first-aid, a complete campsite, wood carving, camping gadgets, yet another camping display and a citizenship center.

Cub Scouts have prepared exhibits on leathercraft, puzzles, handicraft, swimming safety, regatta races, bicycle inspections and a target range.

Special Scout-O-Rama booths will have as their titles the Tri-Cities Area United Way, religious awards, the national Boy Scout jamboree, an information center, Order of the Arrow camping activities, Illinois Department of Conservation programs and an old-timers' booth.

Admission will be $1 per person. Children under the age of seven accompanied by their parents will be admitted free.

Unihav is one of three districts in the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America. The local district serves Mitchell, Pontoon Beach, Venice, Madison and Granite City.

Cable TV

authorized to get price quotes from area dealers.

The sole quote received was from Dave Croft Chrysler-Dodge Inc. of Collinsville, which offered two 1984 Dodge Diplomats, each fully equipped, including the police packages, but with different carburetor systems.

The four-barrel carburetor model was listed at $11,894, minus a $1,000 trade-in allowance. The two-barrel vehicle costing $10,753 also allowed for a $1,000 trade-in. The Venice Police Department, however, has only one trade-in vehicle, it was noted.

COUNCIL members approved the purchase of both units at a total cost of $21,677.

After a short discussion concerning the installation of cable television in the community, a proposition which has created nearly endless debate, brief spurts of optimism and frustration among the aldermen and general public over the past three years, the council voted to award a new franchise to South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., headquartered in Maryville.

The council's vote margin was six to two, with Third Ward Alderman John Ervin and Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. voting against granting the franchise.

LAST JULY 26, after listening to a series of on-and-off again proposals, none of which materialized, the city fathers awarded a franchise to Sun Cable Systems of the CATV Systems and Associates of Tallahassee, Fla.

The Sun Cable franchise was revoked Feb. 21 when repeated efforts to contact some of the company officials to determine the project's status proved fruitless after work on the cable installation apparently was abandoned.

The new franchise ordinance includes a violation and penalty clause designed to prevent unauthorized persons, or non-subscribers, from defrauding the cable TV firm.

THAT SECTION provides that any person convicted of use of the cable system without specific authorization or compensation being paid shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than $500.

City Attorney Lawrence Hartman, who prepared the ordinance, said the penalty clause will enable the city to collect any fines levied under this provision.

Some of the principal points featured in the ordinance include: the availability to subscribers of a 21-to-24-channel basic service for a monthly charge of $8, and a $7.50 installation fee to residents during the first 30-day period after service becomes available.

THE $7.50 charge is half of the amount listed in the ordinance for the availability to subscribers when the initial installation period ends.

Among the basic service channels offered for the $8 rate are ESPN (sports), MTV (rock music channel), CNN (cable news), all functioning 24 hours a day, plus WTBS-Atlanta, WGN-Chicago and continuous weather news.

The monthly $8 basic fee, plus Home Box Office (a movie and special features channel) will be $18.75 monthly.

ADDITIONAL channels available under the pay-TV section includes Showtime, $10, which drops to $8.50 if combined with other pay channels; The Movie Channel, $10, which also lowers to $8.25 in combination with other pay channels; Disney Channel, $10, and Sports Time, $11.95.

The City of Venice was guaranteed three percent of all gross revenue from the cable system, including installation fees.

The cable firm also will install the system, without charge, at any public service building and any public or parochial elementary or secondary school.

SOUTH-WESTERN Cable TV agreed to commence construction within 60 days of the receipt of necessary pole attachment licenses from Illinois Power Company and/or Illinois Bell Telephone and complete construction within 180 days.

"In no event shall the complete construction of the system take more than eight months," the ordinance states. The ordinance requires a $15,000 performance bond be posted.

Lon Carruth, South-Western Cable TV's new general manager, expressed appreciation to the council and promised to "live up to providing the best cable service in this area. We are looking forward to working with you," he added.

CARRUTH also invited council members to tour the firm's headquarters in Maryville and the office facility in Granite City.

Sewer breaks

field said all will be Granite City residents.

MAYOR PAUL Schuler said that, although these men are temporary, they may be placed on a permanent status after 60 days. He said this would mean that the men would receive benefits at that time.

Ed Schuler, an engineer for the city, said using city workers on the repairs will be advantageous because these workers have had experience with the Granite City sewer system and they will be able to start the work immediately, instead of sending out for repair bids.

Warfield said he is not sure which breaks will be repaired first or how many of the breaks the local people will be repairing, but he said his department will be discussing the order of repairs this week. He said some of the break repairs will have to be contracted out, in order to be eligible for grant monies.

WARFIELD SAID the hirings will not reduce the amount of overtime tabulated by the street department, since all of the overtime hours are for maintaining the pumps on the sewers.

Other sewer-related hirings will include up to two persons in the engineering department. The men will be used to collect data and specifications needed to repair the breaks. The city plans to hire college engineering students to fill these positions. They will be paid at a rate of $5 an hour.

Also hired is Matt Melucci, owner of the Executive Service Consulting Firm in Edwardsville. Schuler said he feels it is necessary to have a consultant to aid the city officers on their grant-seeking trip to Washington in two weeks.

"I THINK WE should do everything that we can to get aid," said Schuler. "Those people to Washington don't know Paul Schuler, they don't know Mac Warfield - but they know Matt Melucci. They (Melucci and Washington officials) talk the same language."

Melucci, former administrative assistant to Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and former executive of the East-West Coordinating Council, was hired at a rate of $25 an hour, plus expenses. Schuler said that Melucci's expenses will be minimal and will probably consist of expenses incurred for long distance phone calls to Washington. He said he did not think it will be necessary for Melucci to accompany the city officials to Washington.

Schuler said he hopes to pay the expenses for Melucci and all of the sewer repair workers through Community Development grant monies. He said there is about $240,000 left in the original grant of $300,000.

THE COUNCIL also gave it's permission to the engineering department to solicit proposals from persons to take soil logs at the sewer break sites and for persons to dig the wells for dewatering, the expensive proposal of lowering the ground water level around a sewer break below the sewer so repairs can be done.

Schuler said the soil logs are essential to determine what is beneath the surface. He said these reports will tell the engineers where to place the wells, thus avoiding a well that doesn't draw water.

$150 CASH TAKEN

New directions for Tri-City Area YMCA

The Tri-City Area YMCA Board of Directors recently made key decisions affecting the future of the "Y". In response to new trends and community needs, the YMCA is redirecting some priorities.

Noteworthy among new "Y" directions will be an emphasis on child-care services, such as babysitting services for members and users of the "Y" and pre-school and after-school child care, beginning in August. Dave Fennite, the YMCA executive director, noted that the trend in the community is for both males and females to enter the workplace, leaving children "in limbo." The "Y" is a natural provider of quality care for the child, he said.

To accommodate this new direction and the accentuation of the "Y" as a family and community center, the "Y" board deems it necessary to discontinue residence operations in August of this year. The board simply views the residence operation as incompatible with its other services to the community, Fennite said. The original purpose of YMCA residences grew out of needs in a much different type of society in the early 1900's. Needless to say, society has changed markedly. The staffing of the YMCA is not equipped to handle a residence. Rising operational costs also play a significant role in the decision to review program and service priorities, as well as the considerable capital costs that are required to maintain a residence, he added.

Further action by the board will result in a facility for the "Y" by way of installing a Nautilus Center at the "Y" and making other needed, but practical cosmetic and functional improvements to the building. The ground floor will be remodeled to accommodate a Nautilus Center and to update the fitness areas. Child care services will be provided in the newly-designed second floor area, next to the secretarial offices.

"The future of the 'Y' is an exciting future," Fennite said.

"We've been steadily expanding our programs and services over the past few years. The 'Y' board currently is reviewing a five-year comprehensive plan, which will not only provide for a growing, stable YMCA, but one which will continue to reach out to the entire Quad-City area in its effort to provide quality community services," the executive director said.

Recently, the "Y" has added programs like "Y-Pals" and "Resilient Youth." "Y-Pals" is a program designed for the economically disadvantaged youths ages 6 to 12. Several times a year, the youth and their adult "Pals" participate in a fun activity which is intended to raise the youth's self-esteem, show them that someone cares about them and broaden their horizons.

The "Resilient Youth" program has the same objectives as Y-Pals, but is limited to Kirkpatrick Homes youth, while the "Y-Pals" program is open to any youth in the area.

"The YMCA is unfolding, once again, as a quality, comprehensive youth and family service organization that concentrates on the development of people," Fennite concluded.

Chouteau supporting bill to control annexations

By DONNA KIMBRO

A possibility that an annexation bill (House Bill 2071) important to Chouteau Township will pass from committee status and to the House of Representatives in Springfield, promoted Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks, to announce at Monday night's town board meeting that he planned to travel to Springfield Tuesday to attend the legislative session. The bill received six yes votes, three no votes and five abstentions last week when first presented.

"If this bill should go to the House, we are going to have to work harder than ever to reach our legislative representatives to vote for this bill that will put a stop to annexation of township property by other cities or counties," Sparks said at the township meeting.

THE STRUGGLE to protect boundary lines of the township has been a long one and, since 1981, a continuous problem to all trustees seeking legislation that will help the smaller areas compete with larger cities and towns.

A big "bite" into Chouteau Township was last experienced with the loss of the 427-acre Northgate Industrial Park along Route 3 and parcels of property of Illinois Power Co. and Illinois Terminal Railroad Co. when it was annexed into the city of Granite City and the co-extensive Granite City Township. Under the current state law, property cannot be annexed into a co-extensive city without automatically being annexed into that city's township, since they share identical boundaries.

Each time another township annexes a prime industrial section, Chouteau township loses additional Revenue Sharing and other federal grant funds that are controlled by population.

THE QUESTION of the total population figure was discussed at an early April meeting when census figures released March 16 of this year reflected a loss of 246 people in Chouteau Township.

At that time, Sparks said he would check on this, as he believes it is wrong and the population count has a direct bearing on funding the township received from various agencies, including Revenue Sharing funds.

Monday night, the supervisor said he received an answer to his letter to the Department of Commerce in Washington, D.C. in conjunction with his protest in census data.

THE LETTER noted the residential count was compiled from data obtained in 1980-82 and more information would have to be gathered and forwarded to the office in Washington, D.C., before the totals could be changed.

"I intend to continue with my investigation on the number of people living in the township and find out for sure if, in fact, the township has lost 246 people," Sparks said.

Permission was granted by the trustees to Boy Scout Troop 41 to use the hall during the summer months on Thursdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m. and on school holidays, with the exception of the fourth Thursday of each month, as this is the senior citizens' meeting date.

MONEY received by the township included a $100 receipt from Evelyn Bowles for hall rental for the election, $450 interest from the road and bridge and building and equipment funds, and replacement tax for the road and bridge fund in the amount of $4,295, and town fund, $3,378.

Wilfred "Bud" Eberhart, highway commissioner, announced that, due to the road work needs because of the bad winter and very wet spring, his department will be unable to pick up tree limbs after Friday, May 4.

Supervisor Sparks also issued a statement reminding residents of Rabies Control and Distemper Clinic in the Chouteau Township highway garage on Tuesday, May 22, from 5 to 7 p.m. for dogs and cats.

Cost of rabies shots is $7 and distemper shot is $14 for dogs while cats may receive a rabies shot for $7 and distemper shot for $9.

A PUBLIC BUDGET hearing meeting is scheduled at the township hall at 7 p.m. Monday, May 7.

Council approves drive-up facilities

Members of the Granite City council approved plans Tuesday night for construction of a drive-up window at the Tacole Restaurant, 3908 Nameoki Rd.

Under the plans, the restaurant has agreed to improve and maintain the alley that will be used for the drive-up lane. Dennis Ridgeway, manager of Tacole's, said the restaurant plans to cover the current alley with six inches of rock and two inches of asphalt to make it safe for the customers. Ridgeway also said the restaurant will contact the city's street department to make sure the work meets with proper standards.

The drive-up window will be on the north side of the building. Ridgeway said the drive-up lane will have the capacity to accommodate up to nine cars at one time without blocking traffic on Nameoki Road. Ridgeway said the drive-up facility will not affect parking in the customer lot.

Record participation expected in Saturday's Special Olympics

More than 1,300 athletes from eight Southwestern Illinois counties are registered to compete Saturday, in the ninth annual Area 12 Special Olympics, scheduled again on the campus of SIUE.

Pat Gunsten, assistant professor in the SIUE department of health, said a new record will be set if all registrants show up for the events. Last year, all-time records were broken with nearly 1,100 participants.

OPENING ceremonies, highlighted by a welcome from SIUE President Earl Lazerson, are scheduled at 9:30 a.m. at the SIUE track, near Cougar Field on Bluff Road. Events will include the 50, 220 and 440-yard dashes, 100-yard walk race, mile run, 440 relays, standing long jump, high jump and softball throw.

Athletes will compete in divisions according to their sex, age and skill level. Sessions are scheduled in both the morning and afternoon, with lunch to be served to the participants.

Gunsten said two training sessions are scheduled at the SIUE track, Friday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., and Saturday at 8:30 a.m., an hour before the opening ceremonies.

For the third year, the events will include "very special Olympics" for the "Profoundly dysfunctional." Gunsten said that, in addition to the four-year crawl race and other competitions called "looker," "grip-der," "muffin race," "clothespin drop" and "staircase," he said.

GUNSTEN SAID competitions will be held at other times and places or other Special Olympic events, including soccer, swimming, bowling, tennis, gymnastics and basketball.

Internationally, more than a million individuals participate in the program. Approximately 23,000 of these athletes are from Illinois.

Winners in the Area 12 events will have opportunities to be considered for state, regional, and international competitions. Last year, Area 12 had several gold medal winners in the international Special Olympics held at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

Attendance improving at Madison High School

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

Attendance is up by two percent and out of school suspensions have declined by 77 percent this year at Madison High School. These statistics, disclosed at a Madison School Board meeting last week, are the results of the newly-developed in School Suspension Committee and program.

Operating since the beginning of the school year, Dan Kostencki, high school principal, admits, "The program has not been 100 percent effective, but as each week goes by becomes more established.

"The kids' attitudes show they realize they are responsible for their own behavior and they will no longer be rewarded with three days out of school," explained one committee member.

"This program is a very fine addition to the school, a major addition, and I feel happy that it has worked and hope that it will continue to work," concluded Kostencki.

In other business, three appointments were made and one resignation accepted. Logan Donaldson will replace the resigning Harry Peterson as a high school custodian as of May 8 and Eric Wilson will replace a retiring custodian July 1. Also, Frank Eaves was appointed the new school board secretary.

In a letter from John S. Kemp, state director of the Illinois State Committee, the board was notified of the continuing accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

Many permission requests were granted by the board. They included two field trips from Harris School, one field trip from Louis Baer School, the high school basketball banquet and permission to advertise for electronic typewriters.

Women-minority contracts to be emphasized by state

General Assembly approval in 1984 is being sought for the Minority and Female Business Enterprise Act, which seeks to increase such firms' participation in state contracts.

As Governor James R. Thompson sees it, "Economic opportunity is vital to a free and open society. Effects of past discrimination cannot be allowed to limit resources for expanded economic development."

"Although government cannot and ought not be in the business of assuring the success of a particular business, we have an obligation to encourage equal access to the state government process—and to be a leader in the effort to eliminate vestiges of discrimination."

He adds that an active role by women and minority-owned firms in the free market system is "an integral part of our efforts to reduce unacceptably high unemployment."

Legislation announced last week would create a Minority and Female Business Enterprise Council responsible for reviewing rules which implement the program, monitoring its progress and reporting annually to the governor and Assembly on the status of the program.

There would be an overall goal of 15 percent for minority and female business involvement in all state contracts. To help achieve this, a "sheltered market" system would be provided.

In a sheltered market, contracts and subcontracts are designated for limited competition from minority and female-owned firms on either a negotiated or competitive bid basis before solicitation of bids.

State contracts that would be affected include professional services, construction, commodities and equipment.

Like the Small Business Purchasing Act, the plan calls for selective use of "set-asides" but avoidance of "rigid, impractical quotas for each state contract."

Census statistics show 19,413 minority Illinois businesses, including 12,251 owned by blacks, 2,417 by Hispanics and 4,711 by Asian Americans or American Indians.

Although also a "minority group" by definition, women make up a slight majority of the Illinois population.

Reasons for past inequities are said to be persistent patterns of sex and racial discrimination, lack of access to capital, lack of familiarity with government contracting laws and purchasing policies, and lack of the requisite expertise in bidding and estimating techniques.

Walk for the Hungry May 20

May 20 is the date for the second annual Gateway Walk for the Hungry. The walk is scheduled for Sunday afternoon to give families a chance to walk together and to enable working people to join in the 10-mile trek. The Gateway Walk for the Hungry will begin in the Memorial Plaza Park at Tuber Boulevard and Chestnut Street. Registration will be from 12:30 until 2 p.m.

The Gateway Walk for the Hungry is expected to draw people from the seven county bi-state metropolitan area. The event is being organized by CROP, the community appeal of Church World Service.

Funds raised from the walk will be used to combat hunger in the area and the around the world. Twenty-five per cent of the funds are designated for the Food Crisis Network. This agency seeks to provide food for more than 200 local pantries and congregate meal programs in the metropolitan area. The remainder of the funds raised will be used for emergency feeding programs, disaster appeals and development programs of the church in more than 80 nations of the world. Many of the funds will be channeled to assist the victims of the African famine.

Persons or groups planning to walk will be contacting area residents, businesses and organizations to ask them to sponsor their participation in the walk. A pledge of dollars or cents per mile will be recording on the sponsor's record.

Anyone who wishes to designate funds to another hunger-fighting agency (such as Lutheran World Relief or Catholic Relief Services) may indicate that information to the walker, who will mark the gift on the sponsor record.

The 10-mile route will wind its way through South St. Louis and return to Memorial Plaza Park. Rest stops at each two miles will be maintained for the assistance of the walkers.

Persons or groups who have not been contacted may call the local enabler for the Gateway Walk for the Hungry, the Reverend Georgina Bowers, at 1-314-894-2400 for assistance or information.

More than 200 churches from eight faith groups in the bi-state metro area have indicated their wish to participate in this event.

Madison amends ordinance to allow alcohol in parks

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

The Madison City Council discussed two primary issues at a special meeting Tuesday night.

An ordinance concerning the permitted consumption of alcoholic beverages in city parks and playgrounds was amended. The new ordinance states, "Madison Liquor Commissioner may issue a special license permitting the sale, dispensing, or giving away of alcoholic beverages to any religious, social, fraternal, charitable or community-oriented organization.

THIS SPECIAL license will be issued to an organization for no more than three continuous days and a licensee must provide proof of dram shop insurance coverage during the applicable special license dates. Coverage may be obtained by filing a copy of the insurance policy with the City of Madison Liquor Commissioner before the use of the special license.

The ordinance was amended after a police officer issued a warning during the weekend on a group consuming alcohol at the Third Street Ball Diamond during a tournament.

A bid from E. J. Dougherty Oil & Stone Supply Inc. of East St. Louis regarding the repair of city streets with asphalt crackfiller, was rejected. The council feels it can secure a purchase more economically at a later date.

Purchase of pick-up sparks argument

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Discussion surrounding the purchase of a new pick-up truck for the Granite City sewage treatment plant led to an accusation Tuesday night by Alderman Paul Fisk, who said that some aldermen were using the sewage treatment department as a "whipping post."

Fisk, who is the chairman of the city's pollution plant committee, became angered at the council meeting when Alderman Sam Whitmer suggested that the sewage department wait until next year's budget is made out, to order the truck. "The truck is not a line item on this year's budget and I don't think we should be ordering equipment if it's not in the budget," said Whitmer.

FISK HAD suggested that the truck be bought with money ($80,000) that had been budgeted to repair the roof at the sewage treatment plant. Fisk said that since the plant would be remodeled, due to it becoming a regional facility, a grant would cover the cost of a new roof and the $80,000 would not be utilized. Fisk said the roof of the plant will have to be remodeled completely to place new equipment in by helicopter. The new truck would be purchased at a cost of $7,439.

Whitmer said that Fisk was suggesting a transfer of funds in the budget and that, although it is "legal," he didn't approve of it.

Fisk answered that the truck was in good working order when the budget was prepared last year. "The engine blew up on this vehicle and I don't see how anyone could know in advance that this type of thing was going to happen," he said.

"I'VE SEEN this sort of thing happen (buying equipment not budgeted) in other departments and they have all been able to get new equipment throughout the year," said Fisk. "And if the council is going to vote against this, I don't think it's right."

Rites for mother of Granite City resident

Funeral services were conducted on April 25 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Golden, Ill., for Mrs. Lena Gerdes, 87, of Golden, mother of Mrs. Erma Dolan of Granite City.

Mrs. Gerdes died on Sunday, April 22, 1984, in the Good Shepherd Home, Golden, where she had resided since August 1980. She was a lifelong member of the Lutheran Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Gerhard Gerdes in April 1961.

Other survivors include, another daughter, Miss Arlene Gerdes of Golden; a son, Raymond Gerdes of Rushville, Ill.; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial was in Memorial Gardens in Golden.

Extension of water lines to end reliance on wells in the Arlington residential area is under discussion.

Increasing the pressure on Illinois legislators to require auto exhaust tests in Chicago and Madison-St. Clair counties, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency acted Tuesday to cut off up to $120 million for work on Interstate 255 and $14 million for extension of the Alton Beltline Highway.

Madison and St. Clair counties transit planners are seeking to reduce the bus fare to 50 cents from the present 75 cents.

"I think it would be discriminating against the sewage department and I find that disgusting. Are we the sewage department? going to be the whipping post of the council now that the engineer (City Engineer Monroe Brewer) is gone and the council can't pick on him any longer? I think this is a whole lot of c---."

Whitmer replied that it is "not c---" as far as he is concerned. "And as far as the sewage department being the whipping post of the council—I don't think so," he said.

ALDERMAN Carl Kittel said he feels the sewage treatment plant should be thought of as highly as any other department of the city. "The health and welfare of our city is at stake at the sewage treatment plant also," he said.

Alderman Sharon Perjak said she disagreed with the sewage treatment plant being used as a "whipping post. When you go to the sewage treatment plant, all the equipment there is new or nearly new," she said. She said the equipment at the street department is "a bunch of junk" in comparison to the sewage treatment equipment.

Despite the lengthy discussion, the purchase was approved by a 12-2 vote. Only Whitmer and Alderman Woody Moad cast dissenting votes.

TICKET SALES are going well for the Madison Police Club's 110 annual dance, to be conducted Friday night, starting at 9 o'clock in the new Madison Amvets Hall, 1711 Kennedy Drive in Madison. Tickets are $4 each and will be available at the door or from members of the Madison Police Club. Madison City Clerk John Bellcoff, center, and Michael Bero, right, are shown buying tickets from Officer Gary Marsala, treasurer of the club.

'Riding the rails' to the 'Run for the Roses'

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

They rode the rails to view the Run for the Roses. They were a class-group and they went first-class, no doubt of it. When Kentucky Derby day rolls around — always the first Saturday of May — this special group of racing fans, reporters and breeders and that broad strata of society who just naturally want to be where the action is, would gather at railroad union stations throughout the country and prepare themselves for a special weekend.

Local experts' pick '84 'Run for the Roses'

With the advance data somewhat messed up with the news of the scattering of pre-race favorites Devil's Bag and Mighty Adversary, five local businessmen and horsemen have agreed to share with the readers of the Press-Record their choices in Saturday's Kentucky Derby race in Louisville.

DAVE EMBURY, owner of 12 McDonald restaurants in southwestern Illinois and a breeder and racer of horses; Althea, Dr. Carter and Swale.

MERWYN SHER, operator of Cohen's Food Market; Althea, Taylor's Special and Swale.

editor of the Post-Dispatch even before I was born and J. Roy Stockton who took over for him when he retired, the natty dressed Sid Keener of the Star-Times and many, many others," he added as if it had all happened just yesterday.

"We'd run two sections to the Derby," explained Russell. "The first one would leave the St. Louis Union Station yards at midnight Thursday and arrive at Louisville Friday at 8 a.m."

"After partying most of the night, all of those people would usually 'sleep in' well past noon and than anyone also could (have) possibly done. Money, of course, was no object. In fact, while I wasn't there in the early 1920's, the old-timers I worked with told me that the Texans air-conditioned their Pullman cars with copious quantities of good, old-fashioned blocks of ice."

Russell's last Derby Day train ride was in 1963, but he continued to go to the Derby through 1982. Without hesitation he replied: "I had a real good streak going there in the early 1960's. I picked four straight winners, starting in '60 with Venetian Way, Carry Back in 1961, Decidedly in '62 and Chateaugay in 1963."

Wilma (nee Wilson), his wife, had some good luck, too, with her Derby picks. Most notably was in 1960 when she opted and came home a winner with Genuine Risk, only the second filly since the races started in 1875, to win the run for the Roses.

So, here's Bill Russell's choices for Saturday's 109th running of the Kentucky Derby: Swale, Devil's Bag and Mighty Adversary. The only bad thing is that he's yet to decide how they'll finish.

Who locally, he was asked, used to ride the Derby Day specials and could "pick the winners?" "Sam Pershall, Sr., now deceased, hated to fly and loved the trains. I can't recall any specific races he named when she opted and came home a winner with Genuine Risk, only the second filly since the races started in 1875, to win the run for the Roses."

Back to Russell and his career, and the Derby. With the cut back and sharp drop off of passenger service and traffic in the U.S. of A, Russell was switched over to the freight division by the railroad until his retirement in 1962.

Russell's first job in railroading was with the Rock Island Line as an assistant to the company's St. Louis station passenger agent in 1951. Shortly after going to work there, they had a financial cutback and, learning that the L&N had had a death in their passenger department I applied and was hired as chief clerk. And, "laughing," at a good increase in salary, at that."

In early 1944, he was shipped to the Pacific theater by the Army to Hawaii and there he was attached to the Navy and, at the same time, served as it were, as private secretary to both a full Army colonel and a Navy captain.

When did the last Derby train run?

Frowning, Russell answered: "It was either 1967 or '68. I can't recall for sure. But, I do know for sure, that something precious and unique went out of our American sports life with the ending of the railroads' Derby Day trains to Louisville."

Funny thing, overall about the Kentucky Derby. To most Americans, it is the only horse race they care anything about. It is, too, the only race that the average U.S. sports citizen will bet a few dollars on during any given year.

RIDING THE RAILS. Passengers who have just arrived on a Derby Day Pullman car special for the 1953 Run for the Roses await the arrival of buses to transport them to Churchill Downs. INSET. Not all the cars were reserved for people, however. A passenger on one of the Kentucky Derby specials, Nashville, winner of the '55 Derby is offered a bit of hay by a handler.

In the overall sports picture, though, the Kentucky Derby ranks up there along with the World Series in baseball, the Super Bowl in pro football, Wimbledon in tennis, Stanley Cup in ice hockey, the NBA playoffs in basketball and the NCAA round of four in collegiate basketball.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our special thanks to Charles B. Castner, Regional Manager, Corporate Communications, Seaboard System Railroad, for his help in preparing this feature on the Kentucky Derby. He formerly worked for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

On Wednesday GCHS tracksters third

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

HAZELWOOD — Coming down to the wire at the Hazelwood East Relays, the official scorer showed the host team ahead by 20 points. The race for second was much closer, with Granite City needing 11 points to get past McCluer.

Word of the scores reached Granite City junior Eric Graves and freshman Gary Crone just before their final jump in the triple jump — the last event of the day. Graves jumped 43-feet 6-inches in his final jump, finishing first in the event. Crone reached 40-feet 6-inches in his last jump, good enough to finish fifth.

The two places gave Granite City 12 points, putting the Warriors in second place — or so it seemed.

HOWEVER, an error by the scorer in the high hurdle relay incorrectly gave Granite City third place instead of fourth. Correcting the mistake took away two key points from the Warriors and dropped them back into a third-place finish.

Despite the last-minute changes, coaches from all schools seemed happy to just get the event over. Wednesday was the third day for the relays, which were cut short by rain on March 24 and March 26.

In Wednesday's event, Granite City also received victories from Graves in the long jump with a mark of 21-feet 10½-inches and senior Jim Robertson in the 3200-meter run — with a 10:02.57 time.

"I WAS hoping to go for 9:20," said Robertson, whose best time this season has been 9:31. "I expected to be able to take it easy in the distance

In Pattonville Warriors finish second

PATTONVILLE — The Granite City Warriors girls' track team tied for second place out of nine teams at the Pattonville Girls' Invitational held Monday. Host Pattonville, who tied with the Warriors for second, graciously awarded the second-place honors to the Warriors.

Lora Wiser claimed Granite City's two first-place finishes, winning the 1600-meter run in 5:36.9 and the 3200-meter run in 11:58.6. Her twin sister Leisa Wiser finished second in the 400-meter dash with a 1:03.9 time, fourth in the long jump with a 15-foot 9½-inch mark and sixth in the triple jump with a 33-foot 9½-inch mark.

Debbie Brandt finished second in the discus with a throw of 112-feet 1-inch and fourth in the shot put with a throw of 38-feet 10-inches.

In team points, Eureka finished first with 109, Granite City and Pattonville tied for second with 79, Normandy finished fourth with 77 and St. Charles took fifth with 68.

Michelle Shoemaker took Granite City's sole third-place finish with a 6:08.8 time in the 1600-meter run. Granite City relay teams finished fourth in the 3200-meter, fifth in the 1600-meter and sixth in the 400-meter.

Granite City also received points with fifth place finishes from Traci Rose in the 100-meter low hurdles, Faye Patton in the 800-meter run and Heather Crane in the high jump. Crane also took sixth in the long jump, along with a sixth-place finish from Terri Selph in the discus.

JUST OFF THE RACQUET. Granite City High's Jerry Lakin returns this ground shot to Belleville Althoff's duo during Wednesday afternoon's third doubles Gateway East Conference tennis match. Lakin and teammate Dave Warfield dropped the match to Althoff's Tony Laquet and Paul Slocumb 6-4, 6-4. The rest of the Warrior team didn't fare much better as the Warriors lost 6-1. Only Rob Lombardi, the Warriors' third singles player, emerged victorious.

Winners May Carry Olympic Torch Late sign up for Olympic Torch Run

ST. LOUIS — Officials of the Olympic Torch Run have announced runners will be able to register late for the May 5 event.

"Because of the number of runners who have already entered the race, and because it is now impossible for runners to send the entry form in by the May 1 deadline, we have made plans for late registration to take place from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Friday, May 4 at the Community Title Company, 11 North Brentwood in Clayton," stated race director Tom Eckelman.

Late registrations received by mail will be returned.

The Olympic Torch Run will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, May 5 at Busch Stadium. The finish line for the run will be behind second base in Busch Stadium.

The Olympic Torch Run will be conducted in a similar fashion to the popular Bud Light Stadium Run, a unique event which features a handicap start based on the runners age and sex.

The first 150 runners to cross the finish line will be awarded prizes and entered in a drawing to determine the runner who will carry the Olympic Torch for one kilometer through the streets of downtown St. Louis on June 6 enroute to the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

Sponsored by Bud Light beer, Busch Stadium and the St. Louis Cardinals, the 10,000-meter, 6.2-mile run will benefit the Boys' Clubs in Greater St. Louis and St. Charles. Each runner participating in the Bud Light Olympic Torch Run will receive a special, commemorative Olympic Torch Run T-shirt, running number and a coupon for one free general admission ticket, or one-half off the price of a reserved seat, for the Cardinals 7:05 p.m. game May 5 against the San Francisco Giants.

The entry fee for the Bud Light Olympic Torch Run is $4. To enter, runners should send an entry form by May 1 to the Bud Light Olympic Torch Run, P.O. Box 2988, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

For additional information on the Bud Light Olympic Torch Run, or to obtain an entry form, call 314/231-3358.

Get Second GEC Win

Long ball Warriors edge Crusader hurlers, 7-6

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School's varsity baseball team used the long ball Monday afternoon to pick up its second conference win of the season as the Warriors defeated Gateway East Conference rival Belleville Althoff 7-6.

Three Warriors, center fielder Shane Cole, shortstop Greg Ehlers and right fielder Gerald Booker, hit round trippers which helped boost Granite City past Althoff. The victory gives the Warriors a split against the Crusaders this year and ends their conference tally to 2-1.

Althoff, meanwhile, fell to 4-1 in the GEC and 10-2 overall.

IN ADDITION to tightening the conference race, Monday's victory was also a confidence builder for the Warriors. Not only did it improve the Warriors' season record to 5-11, but it was also their fourth win in their last five ball games.

"We're definitely improving at the plate," said Warrior Coach Bob Stegemeier after Monday's game. "Sure there was some wind tonight, but those were all solid, well-hit balls." Stegemeier said of the three home runs. "It all comes down to us being more aggressive at the plate."

Crusader coach Al Poppe concurred. The Warriors scattered 10 hits to Althoff's nine and the fact that Granite City hit so much better in Monday's game over the last time the two teams met surprised Poppe.

"GRANITE City was 100 percent better at the plate today than they were last time we played them," Poppe said. "I think the wind was behind some of those balls a bit, but there's no question, they were hit well."

The first time the two teams met — a 2-1 decision favoring Althoff — the Crusaders outthrew the Warriors 7-3 and, ironically, it was Althoff which used the home run to cash in for a victory.

But Monday was the Warriors' day.

Battling in the first, Althoff scored twice on a single and then a double by Tim Carriel and Ron Fehrer respectively. It was Fehrer's double to right-center field which scored Carriel for the game's first tally.

Althoff made it 2-0 when Fehrer scored when Warrior shortstop Steve Davis mishandled Ted Strabaz's grounder.

It didn't take long for the Warriors to get on the scoring track themselves as lead off batter Cole ripped a solo homer over the left-center field fence 315 feet away.

After an uneventful second inning, the Warriors came back to tie the game in the bottom of the third inning when Ehlers picked up the Warriors' second hit of the ball game, another round tripper to nearly the same spot as Cole's two innings before.

Tied at two, the Warriors were not going to rest on that. They needed a win and they were going to get it.

In the fourth inning, Granite City emerged for two runs to take a 4-2 lead. Randy Burgess, pinch hitting for Warrior third baseman Scott Grote, led off with a double to left-center field. Jim Moulden followed suit with a single to right field which moved Burgess to third.

With runners at the corners, Terry Rujawitz grounded to the shortstop. Fehrer cleanly fielded the ball and then whipped it home in time to catch Burgess at the plate. Meanwhile, Moulden advanced to third and Rujawitz was on via a fielder's choice.

REALIZING the Warriors were near the bottom of their order, Althoff elected to issue an intentional pass to Ehlers, who had already homered, and pitch to ninth batter Keith Coakley.

Coakley smashed a line drive two RBI single to left-center field, scoring Moulden and Rujawitz to put the Warriors ahead for the first time in the ball game.

But the joys of that inning turned into a solemn critique half an inning later. In the top of the fifth, as the Crusaders erupted for four runs on five hits.

The eruption forced the exodus of starting Warrior pitcher Sam Tate. Fehrer tripled to right field and then scored when Strabaz singled to right. To make matters worse, the skipping line shot glanced off Booker's glove and enabled Strabaz to advance to second.

Strabaz scored to tie the game at four when Jim Canavan doubled to left field. Canavan advanced to third on Cole's throw to home which at-

Wilson Park courts lighted

Sure signs that spring has arrived are blossoming flowers, long days and lights at the Wilson Park tennis courts.

The turning on of the lights, the unofficial coming of spring at Wilson Park, came on Monday, April 30, and will remain on for the through summer an into early fall.

Now the lighted courts may be reserved Monday through Friday from 5 p.m. until 11 p.m. and reservations can be made after 4:45 p.m. for that evening only and they must be made in person.

Furthermore, the reservations can only be made at court side and persons are limited to one-hour session per day.

Persons reserving courts must be residents of the Granite City Park District with an identification card issued by the district.

The final request by the Park Board is that all persons wear tennis shoes while on the court.

The district also has a tennis court at Stearns Park located at Amos and Johnson Roads, however no reservations are required, but court time is limited to one hour.

Soccer vacancies

The Rams soccer team currently has openings on its team for 9-year-olds, born in 1975, interested in playing this summer.

Persons wishing to sign up for the team should call Kay Dalton at 797-0046. The team, coached by Don Cooper, plays in the Quad-Cities Soccer Association League.

tempted to cut down Strabaz at the plate.

Althoff retook the lead in the game when Curt Marchand grounded out to Ehlers, enabling Canavan to score.

With one out and the bases clear Dan Nester's line swing rewarded him with a bloop single behind first base, just out of reach of first baseman Coakley.

THREE PITCHES later, Nester was safely at home and Althoff had a neat 6-4 lead when Joe Bauer tripled to deep center field.

Granite City put an end to Althoff's rally as reliever Dan Whitsett got Jeff Gundlach to fly out to Coakley who made a double play on Bauer at third.

Just as the fifth had been a most fruitful inning for Althoff, so was it for Granite City.

The Warriors, a la Booker, picked up their third home run of the game. A soaring fly ball, Booker's solo homer exited Varsity Field at left-center field.

After Baseball Invitational Four Sophs named to tourney team

The excitement of the Warrior sophomore baseball team's victory in the Fifth Annual Sophomore Invitational Baseball Tournament has barely waned when the announcement came Wednesday that four members of that GCHS team have been named to the All-Tournament Team.

Warriors named to the team include Matt Roe, Dennis Gaudreault, Fred Becker and Ernie Gray. Roe was selected as the All-Tournament Team catcher who averaged .556 at the plate and batted in six RBIs.

Gaudreault, the team's second baseman, had the highest batting average during the tourney, hitting a torrid .857 with five RBIs and seven runs scored.

THE THIRD Warrior sophomore

THE WARRIORS, now trailing by one, 6-5, tied the game in the bottom of the fifth when Burgess, who reached on a triple to right-center field, scored when Fehrer bobbled Rujawitz's chopping grounder.

Tied at six, the rest was up to Whitsett. Using his overhand curve ball to perfection, Whitsett retired the next six Crusaders in order. But it didn't stop there for the senior right-hander. He would later hit the ground ball which scored the winning run.

In the sixth, the Warriors' last at bat, Ehlers reached on a single to left field, advanced to second on Coakley's sacrifice bunt, and then scored when Randy Thurman wisely broke up a double play attempt at second base which would have ended the inning.

WHITSETT'S shot, which scored Ehlers, was a chopping grounder to Crusader shortstop who tossed to Crusader second baseman John Bouvinette.

The Warrior one-run Warrior sixth ended when Althoff hurler Dennis Shea got Booker to ground out to Fehrer, but it was enough as Whitsett, as mentioned, retired the side.

The Warriors will be looking for their sixth win of the season today as they travel to distant Greenville to take on the Comets for a 4 p.m. contest.

In Softball Tuesday Trojanettes blast Red Devilettes

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

VENICE — There's a lot to be said about high school rivalries. Most often they're fiercely fought grudge matches which result in alternating victories.

But when Venice and Madison High Schools square off, it's more than just a rivalry. More than just a competitive comparison of talent. It's neighbor vs. neighbor. Friend vs. friend. One team looking to get one up on the other. That's the way the high school softball game went Tuesday afternoon at Venice High's field, a game which Madison eventually won 15-5 in five innings.

"This made the season for my girls," said Trojanette Coach Cole. "They won't care if they don't win another game this season now that they've beaten Venice. This is the one they really wanted."

THE VICTORY evened Madison's record to 2-2 while Venice dropped to 4-2 on the season. Madison, however, was not as fortunate Wednesday afternoon against Wood River, as the Trojanettes dropped a one-sided contest 15-1 to the Oilers.

"Our pitching is really a problem," lamented Red Devilette Coach Rick Everage after Tuesday's game. "We've had problems with our pitching ever since the first game. Either we can't get the ball across or when we do they rip us."

That's what happened to Venice Tuesday. With the aid of four first-inning hits and five walks, the Trojanettes scored seven runs to take a comfortable lead.

WHEN MADISON wasn't capitalizing on Red Devil walks, it was hitting the ball well. In all, Madison managed 12 hits to Venice's four. The tally reflected in the final score. Madison's early lead accomplished two things. First it gave Madison some breathing room, a lead to relax, while simultaneously putting the monkey on Venice's back.

Initially, it appeared as though Venice was going to rebound from Madison's strong first inning. The Red Devilettes retaliated in its half of the first, getting three runs to cut the lead to four, 7-3, but another big inning in the fifth for the Trojanettes put the game out of reach.

IN THAT fateful fifth inning, Madison scored four runs to take a 10-run, 15-5, lead. All that remained was to hold the Red Devilettes for the final half inning to win. And they did.

Back in the first inning, Madison's lead off batter, Robby Harris, reached on an errant throw by Venice third baseman Leticia Miller. The throw pulled first baseman Janice Bradley off the bag.

A walk issued to Kim Stanley and then a double by Lisa Prothro scored Harris for Madison's first tally. Stephanie Barker walked grounded out to the shortstop, but the fielder's choice still scored Stanley who now reached third.

WITH THE bases clear and a 2-0 Madison lead, Kim Goes reached on an infield hit. Trojanette first baseman Angelle Dandridge and Kathy Bargiel each walked to load the bases for Alana Browley who doubled to right field, scoring Goes and Dandridge.

With a 4-0 lead, Madison's Bargiel scored, giving the Trojanettes a 5-0 lead, when the ball eluded Venice catcher Jackie Chatman and escaped out of play.

With Browley now on third an passes issued to Missy Scrum and Harris, Stanley came through with a two-out double to center field, scoring Browley and Scrum.

THE RED Devilettes' three first-inning runs came as Janice Bradley, who reached on a double, scored on a passed ball, and Cassandra White and Jackie Chatman scored on Chanti Bradley's double down the third base line.

Madison managed to get of those runs back in the second inning as Goes, who reached on a single to left-center field, scored on a passed ball. The Trojanettes padded their lead in the third by eight, 11-3, when Scrum, Stanley and Walker each crossed the plate. Scrum scored on Stanley's single to left field and Stanley and Walker each scored on Goes' single to left field.

VENICE, a la Chatman, cut Madison's lead by one in its half of the third when the powerful Red Devilette belted a solo homer to straight away center field.

Trailing, by seven, 11-4, Venice picked up another run in its fourth inning as the Red Devilettes' Miller tripled to center field and then scored when Wendy King grounded out to the pitcher.

Madison, however, seemed determined to make the game shorter than intended. The Trojanettes rallied for four runs — just enough to make it an abbreviated contest — in its fifth.

Stanley, who was 3-for-3 in the game, led the inning off with a single to right field and scored when Walker beat out an infield single.

DANDRIDGE reached on an error to right field which scored Walker and Goes, who reached the play before on a fielder's choice.

Leading 14-5, the Trojanettes picked up their first run of the game when Browley doubled to right field to score Bargiel who doubled to center field.

This afternoon the Trojanettes will go for their third win of the season as they travel to Red Bud to meet the Musketeers. Action begins at 4 p.m. The Red Devilettes are off until Monday when they travel to Wood River to meet the Trojans. That game, like Madison's contest with Red Bud, begins at 4 p.m.

Gets Soccer Scholarship Sheridan signs with North Texas

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

Matt Sheridan, 18, a sweepster back for Granite City High School's soccer team last season, has signed a national letter to attend North Texas State University in Denton.

Sheridan, who led the Warriors in goals last season from his defensive position with 12, signed the letter recently which provides a "full ride" soccer scholarship.

Sheridan, who incidentally is fifth in his class of 650 students, said he elected to attend North Texas State because of its advanced laser studies and technology programs.

"I was originally considering medicine or engineering, but North Texas State's physics department is excellent, perhaps one of the best in the country," Sheridan said. "And they have a physics post-graduate program which specializes in lasers, a field which I believe has limitless potential."

THE HEAVY senior whose accomplishments include the Elks' Scholar of the Month last September, in addition to numerous, coveted national and state soccer awards, has twice been named All-American.

Those All-American honors include Parade Magazine Soccer, All-American, and National Soccer Coaches Athletic Association All-American.

Recently, too, he was named to the National High School All-Star Team which will play before a nationally televised audience in June. Other honors include numerous Illinois high school regional, sectional and state honors — including being named the best high school soccer player in Illinois last season.

Venice softball registration

The Venice Park Board is still accepting both team and individual registrations for men and women interested in playing in its summer slow-pitch softball league.

According to Robert Wigfall, of the Venice recreation department, the board will continue registering persons through this week at the recreation center from 8 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. The Venice Recreation Center is located at 320 Broadway.

HIS COACH, Warrior coach Gene Baker, called Sheridan "perhaps" the best soccer player he's ever coached at Granite City, which says a lot for a man who has six state championships to his credit.

"Matt's perhaps one of the best athletes I've ever coached," Baker said. "And, he's definitely the most intensely recruited athletes I've ever coached."

Indeed, the 5-foot 11-inch 160-pound senior did have the ability to "pick and choose" the college or university where he will study and play soccer for the next four years. Taking advantage of all five recruiting trips allowed by the NCAA, Sheridan visited such prestigious institutions as Creighton, the University of South Carolina, Duke, and Columbia University in New York in addition to North Texas State.

IN ADDITION to those above, Dartmouth and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville also made offers to Sheridan, all of which were "full ride" scholarships.

"The biggest thing I liked about North Texas State was its physics department, naturally, but also the soccer coach, Dr. Richard Lowe, is a very nice man," Sheridan said. "He was upfront with me and didn't put a lot of pressure on me to sign right away. He gave me all the time I needed."

Sheridan has been a member of a varsity high school soccer team for the Warriors since his sophomore year. Last year, his junior year, he was an integral part of the Warrior soccer team which won the Illinois state championship.

"OWE so much to Coach Baker and the whole high school soccer program for much of the good which has happened to me," Sheridan said. "Granite City is becoming known throughout the country for its soccer and it's soccer athletes. I just hope I can live up to that fine tradition."

Sheridan is the son of Phil and Dorothy Sheridan of 2223 Grand in Granite City.

In Macomb

MHC's Martinez, Hahs are winners

Granite City's Mexican Honorary Commission Boxing Club concluded action Sunday in the Junior Olympic competition and emerged with two champions.

Competing in Macomb's Spoon River Junior College, MHC's Mando Martinez and Darin Hahs were each Illinois state champions. Martinez, an 11-year-old 75-pound sub-novice boxer, earned his title by scoring to victories Saturday and then winning the championship on Sunday.

Martinez made winning look easy Saturday as he ended each of his fights in the first round. In the opening fight, Martinez defeated Chris Steel of the Springfield Housing Authority Boxing Club in the first round when he landed a strong right hand to his opponent's head.

THAT CONTEST lasted 40 seconds before the referee stopped the contest.

In his second bout Saturday, Martinez spent less time disposing of Toby Franz of the Lincoln Boxing Club. In a fight which lasted all of 15 seconds, Martinez landed another right hand to which, like his first bout, ended abruptly.

In Sunday's championship bout Martinez battled Keith Walston of the Rockford Boxing Club before eventually picking up the decision and the title.

Hahs, an 11-year-old 60-pound sub-novice boxer, had a much easier time in picking up his championship title. In fact, the little right-hander was unopposed through the championship fight.

IN ADDITION to the two champions, four other local boxers also saw action in the weekend tournament.

Larry Jordan, a 100-pound sub-novice, dropped a semifinal-round bout to Sean Caffey of Kankakee. Caffey, incidentally, went on to win that championship.

The three remaining boxers,

Derek Bloodworth, Daryl Hahs and Joe Costoff, were defeated in the quarterfinal round.

As the amateur season winds down, the only MHC slated to see boxing action in the near future is 165-pound open division boxer Danny Mendoza.

MENDOZA, a former Golden Gloves champion, is slated to meet Steve Cook of the Twin Cities Boxing Club this Friday in a boxing show sponsored by the South (St. Louis) Side Warriors. Cook, incidentally, is a 1984 novice division Golden Gloves champion.

The show, which begins at 8 p.m., will be at the South Broadway Athletic Club located at Seventh and Shennandoah Streets.

Local area hearing on rules for what students should learn

Ten public hearings have been scheduled statewide by the Illinois Board of Education's proposed requirements for what students should know and be able to do as a result of their schooling in Illinois, and a draft definition of schooling.

These broadly defined requirements for student learning are the outgrowth of the State Board's study of instructional program requirements, already in law and regulation. They are designed to replace current program-related requirements.

The statements focus on the six fundamental areas of learning—mathematics, science, language arts, social studies, the arts, and physical development and health.

The local hearing was held Tuesday at Edwardsville. The proposed statements for students learning were created by an 85-member committee appointed by State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill at the direction of the State Board.

Chaired by Dr. John Corbally, president of the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation and former president of the University of Illinois, this committee was comprised of business executives, professional educators, local school officials and parents.

To implement the proposed new system of state requirements, school districts would be required to develop specific objectives—consistent with the state's student learning requirements—that would address local needs and circumstances.

Districts would then have the responsibility and flexibility to determine what courses should be taught and when, what learning activities students should be involved in, and what other learning activities ought to be made available.

The new system for state requirements would allow each school district use a variety of tests and other measurement tools to regularly assess how well students are learning and are meeting state requirements and local objectives.

The State Board believes that the draft definition of schooling, which accompanies the statements for student learning, should be used as a guide for decision makers at every level as they consider changes related to education.

The board will review the draft definition of schooling and the proposed statements and will consider the testimony presented before approving the measures in final form.

Once the board has taken final action, it will seek legislation to replace the current course requirements with the new statements and the system of objectives, instructional program and assessment.

The definition of schooling says: 1. Schooling is a formal process which has as its primary purpose the systematic transmission of knowledge and culture, whereby children learn in areas fundamental to their continuing development.

2. These fundamental areas of learning are the language arts, mathematics, sciences, social sciences (history, government, geography and economics), the fine arts, and physical development and health.

3. Although schools have a shared interest with other agencies and institutions in the education of children and youth, these shared responsibilities, as important as they may be, are subordinate to the primary purpose of schooling.

Proposed statements for student learning follow:

MATHEMATICS—Mathematics provides essential problem-solving tools which can be applied in a range of scientific disciplines, business, and everyday situations. It is the language of quantification and logic. Its elements are symbols, structures, and shapes. It enables people to understand and use facts, definitions, and symbols in a coherent and systematic way in order to reason deductively and to solve problems.

As a result of their schooling, students will be able to:

- perform the computations of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division using whole numbers, integers, fractions and decimals;
- understand and use ratios, percentages, and measurements including those of area and volume;
- understand and use the skills needed to recognize, formulate and solve problems dealing with a variety of mathematical equations, inequalities, and functions;
- understand and apply geometric forms and relationships;
- understand and use methods of data collection and analysis, including tables, graphs and comparisons;

—use mathematical skills to estimate, approximate and predict outcomes and to judge reasonableness of results.

SCIENCE—This is the quest for objective truth—conceptual framework that provides a causal explanation for all natural phenomena.

The purpose of science education is to develop students who are scientifically literate, recognize that science is not value-free, are capable of making ethical judgments regarding science and social issues, and understand that technological growth is an outcome of the scientific enterprise.

As a result of science schooling, students will have a working knowledge of:

- the processes and basic vocabulary of biological, physical and environmental sciences and their application to life and work in contemporary technological society;
- the social and environmental implications and limitations of technological development;
- the principles of scientific research and of the application of available technology;
- the processes, techniques, methods, and equipment of science and their application in simple research projects.

LANGUAGE ARTS—Mastering the skills and knowledge associated with the language arts is essential for student success in virtually all areas of the curriculum.

It is also a central requirement for the development of clear expression and critical thinking.

Language arts include the study of literature and the development of skills in reading, writing, speaking, and listening.

- As a result of their schooling, students will be able to:
- read, comprehend, interpret, evaluate and use written materials;
- listen critically and analytically;
- write standard English in a grammatical, well-organized and coherent manner for a variety of purposes;
- use spoken language formally and informally to communicate ideas and information and to ask and answer questions;
- understand the various forms of significant literature representative of different cultures, eras and ideas;

—understand how and why language functions and evolves.

FINE ARTS—The fine arts give students the means to express themselves creatively and to respond to the artistic expression of others.

As a record of human experience, the fine arts provide distinctive ways of understanding society, history and nature. The study of fine arts includes visual art, music, theatre and dance.

As a result of such schooling, students will be able to:

- describe the unique characteristics of each of the arts;
- understand the principal sensory, formal, technical and expressive qualities of each of the arts;
- identify significant works in the arts from major historical periods and how they reflect societies, cultures and civilizations, past and present;
- identify processes and tools required to produce visual art, music, theatre and dance;
- demonstrate the basic skills necessary to participate in the creation and/or performance of one of the arts.

SOCIAL STUDIES—Social studies provide students with an understanding of themselves and a society and prepare them for citizenship in a democracy through an awareness of the complexity of the world community.

The study of the humanities, of which the field of social studies is a part, is necessary in order to preserve the values of human dignity, justice, and representative processes.

Social studies include anthropology, economics, geography, history, philosophy, political science, psychology and sociology.

As a result of the schooling, students will be able to:

- understand and analyze comparative political and economic systems, with an emphasis on the political and economic systems of the United States;
- understand and analyze events, trends, personalities, and movements shaping the history of the world, the United States and Illinois;
- demonstrate a knowledge of the basic concepts of the social studies and how these help to interpret human behavior;
- demonstrate a knowledge of world geography with emphasis on that of the United States;
- apply the skills and knowledge gained in social studies to decision making in life situations.

PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT AND HEALTH—Effective functioning of human beings depends on optimum physical development and health. Education for physical development and health provides students with the knowledge and attitudes to assure lifetime healthful living and to acquire physical fitness, coordination and leisure skills to sustain vitality in response to environmental demands.

As a result of their schooling in Illinois, students will be able to:

- understand the physical development, structure and functions of the human body;
- understand principles of nutrition, exercise, efficient management of emotional stress, positive self-concept development, drug use and abuse, and the prevention and treatment of illness;
- understand consumer health and safety, including environmental health;
- demonstrate basic skills necessary to participate in a variety of conditioning exercises and leisure activities such as sports and dance;
- plan a personal physical fitness and health program;
- perform a variety of complex motor and lifesaving activities.

GENERAL OUTCOME—In addition to the outcomes listed under separate learning areas, a number of general outcomes should be expected as a consequence of schooling, the proposal says.

Students will understand:

- the interrelationships of all areas of knowledge;

—the potential for learning through formal schooling and through life experiences;

—the need for a lifelong commitment to learning;

—the importance of the past and of the traditions that derive from it;

—the necessity of attaining the knowledge and skills essential to living productively in a constantly changing and complex world;

—the differences between critical and creative thinking and the contribution that each makes to the development of the individual and society;

—the global nature of today's society and the wide-ranging consequences of individual and collective actions in such a society.

Students will be able to:

- use contemporary computing tools to solve problems;
- gather, evaluate, and synthesize information from a variety of sources;
- use the knowledge and skills of the areas of learning to solve problems;
- and use logical and systematic thinking processes in addressing life situations.

Allege driver DUI twice in 21 hours

Otilio Valencia Jr., 57, of 1701 Bremen Ave., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol on two consecutive nights last week.

In the first instance, Valencia was driving north on Route 3 and was pulled over by an officer who was following him and alleged the motorist's stationwagon was weaving from lane to lane.

When Valencia pulled onto the shoulder of the highway near North Street, reports alleged he then backed up his stationwagon, almost striking the squad car which was parked behind him.

Valencia consented to take a breathalyzer test and was charged. He was released at 1:10 a.m. after posting a $102 cash bond and his driver's license.

The second DUI charge was filed after Valencia's vehicle, westbound on Niedringhaus Avenue at Chestnut Street, allegedly was involved in a collision with the 1972 pickup truck of Gary Bailey, 19, of 2847 Harding Blvd., who was heading east.

This time, Valencia allegedly declined to take a breathalyzer test and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. He was released after posting a $302 cash bond to appear for a hearing May 23.

JOHN 10:10

"I am come that you might have life and have it more abundantly."

JESUS CAME

There are some things in life that you can be absolutely sure of. Whether we were present or not for particular events of history, still the evidence is so overwhelming, we have to believe. The coming of Christ is such an event. So recorded by historians outside the domain of Christianity, and so sure that unbelievers still do believe, He came.

WHY CHRIST CAME

Why Christ came is the reason so many people today are excited. "I am come that you might have life." Christ alone can give us eternal life, redeem us from our sins, forgive us our transgressions, blot out our iniquities, write our names in the Lamb's Book of Life, and justify us in the sight of God, Our Heavenly Father!

WE MAY HAVE IT

We can have what Christ gave to us according to the teaching of the Scripture. And we can have it now. It is Christ's earnest desire to give us abundant life.

He came to save sinners and to convince unbelievers. He came through our resistance, our stubbornness, our rebellion, our pride. He came through our possessions, our love of pleasure, and our love of life. He came through our sorrows, heartaches, and discouragements.

Praise to God forevermore! He came to Satan's territory. He broke the yoke of bondage. He redeemed us from the curse. He came to give us life more abundantly!

PRAY

Do you have this life? You can have it if you desire it. One prayer in sincerity from your heart and it will be yours! God hears and answers prayers. Let us pray today.

Musical computer used in class

By PETER L. SIMPSON

Students and teachers attending a camp and workshop at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this summer will encounter a musical computer system being used in a classroom for the first time, according to its manufacturer.

The Alpha Syntauri System is described as "a friendly beast" by Warren Joseph, professor of music and proud caretaker of the sophisticated equipment.

IT WILL GET its first formal use at a two-week workshop for music teachers, scheduled Aug. 5-17 under the auspices of Summer University. During the week of Aug. 13-17, it will do double duty, since Joseph will also be guiding the students from grades 7 through 12 attending the summer computer camp.

"The computer provides a brand new way of teaching and learning music," Joseph said. "It really is a significant breakthrough for understanding theory, harmony, arranging and how to play the keyboard."

The "friendly beast" makes a student's initial approaches to playing much less embarrassing and intimidating. Because it is in effect a self-contained full music studio, the student can work with it alone, at a pace that allows for quick mastery of the early mechanics.

"Beginning students are spared the experience of having to make mistakes before a whole class," Joseph pointed out. "Any gaps in background are quickly filled by simple programs. Very quickly, students are picking out tunes on the keyboard."

ODDLY ENOUGH, this emphasis on mechanics allows the teacher to guide the student—or the student to act as a self-guide—to the art form of music. "Previously time was consumed by practicing the simpler scales and notes; it took an inordinate amount of patience," Joseph observed. "The computer immediately offers a more general challenge; and bright and talented students especially, move at a faster pace."

A real advantage of the system is that it has the capacity for focusing on any of the specific technical aspects of music and music theory, allowing students to self-identify problems and solve them at their own pace. A discreet package is available for any aspect of music—either practice or theory, Joseph said.

So it clearly is not for beginners only. It makes both the learning and the teaching process more efficient—and more enjoyable. This machine, far from placing constrictions on individual talent, is constantly opening new vistas for flexibility and freedom of expression, according to Joseph.

A COMPOSER himself, Joseph describes with an almost child-like delight the many capabilities of the Alpha Syntauri. "It's based upon an Apple IIe, because only Apple has the capacity for a four-voice synthesizer." With that, he punches into the machine a quartet singing in harmony.

Moving to the keyboard himself, he begins to play for a 16-track recorder. As he transposes keys and times, he smiles as the observer's jaw begins to drop. The computer is a much more reliable microphone, since there is no "bleed over" sound—the basis of the ordinary studio. Only the intended sounds are recorded.

In effect, the Alpha Syntauri can become a complete recording studio, with its own self-correcting sound engineer—and more.

AFTER PLAYING on the keyboard, Joseph asked: "Want to see what that looks like?" Engaging the Epson music printer, he produces a printout of the staffs, keys and notes, a faithful copy of the music as played—or more important—composed. The system gives the musician a copying staff, producing paper music for every instrument that might be playing it.

So the students who come to camp, and the teachers who attend the workshop, are in for a unique, ear-opening experience, courtesy of this "friendly beast" of a computer.

For further information on the teacher's workshop or the Summer Music Computer camp, students may contact Warren Joseph at 1-602-2012 or 602-3800. Those desiring general information on Summer University should get in touch with acting director Paul Gaston at 1-602-3722.

CENTER STAGE. Roseanna Herren, director of student life at Granite City Center, and Par Brown, supervisor of the library at the center, hold up two examples of the students' art work being exhibited at the school. The show is part of a contest at the center last week. Winners were: Linde Stroud, best of show; Steve Demaree, first runner-up; and Euphie Tarris, second runner-up. All are from Granite City. Honorable mentions were given to Ed Decker, Ethel Getelman, Helen Potter and Linda Stroud. The top three winners were awarded with checks presented by the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank. THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

What formerly was called alimony is now known as maintenance in Illinois. Whether a former spouse is awarded maintenance depends upon such factors as the length of the marriage, the employment of each partner, and the lifestyle to which the parties have become accustomed. In addition, the judge will consider what property is held by the husband and wife, the financial needs of the parties, and any special circumstances, such as the poor health of either spouse.

Maintenance can be awarded for a short period of time or indefinitely. Often judges will award what is sometimes referred to as rehabilitative maintenance for a specified period for the purpose of allowing the receiving spouse to get back on his or her feet. In some cases, the receiving spouse will use this money to further their education and get back into the work world.

If maintenance is awarded for an indefinite period, it continues until the receiving party dies, is remarried, or cohabits with another on a "continuing, residential conjugal" basis. In any of these events take place, the former spouse who has been paying alimony needs to, petition the Court to terminate his obligation. A recent case will help demonstrate some of the issues often faced by a Court.

In a recent case, the ex-husband petitioned the Court to modify his obligation to pay alimony based on the contention that his former wife was cohabiting with another man. The ex-wife testified that she had moved in with another man approximately six weeks before the hearing. She further testified that this man with whom she lived was married but that his wife was very ill and lived in a nursing home. She stated that they had no plans to marry.

The former wife contended that this was not a "continuing" relationship necessary to terminate her maintenance since she had only lived with the man six weeks. The Appellate Court rejected this argument and noted that she had rented her former home to another of her children, thereby demonstrating an intent to continue living with her boyfriend. Furthermore, the Court noted that she moved much of her furniture and belongings into the boyfriend's home. The Court felt that these facts indicated that this relationship was not a temporary one but rather a "continuing" one. Therefore, the ex-husband's petition to modify maintenance was granted.

Space projects focus of Cub Scout leaders

"Life on Other Planets" was the theme of the Unihw District's monthly "Roundtable" for Cub Scout leaders held at Coolidge Junior High School.

Cubs from Frohardt School's Pack 22 opened the meeting with a reading of "This Old Flag," under the leadership of Diane Sies and Frances Brown, den leaders from Pack 103 at St. Margaret Mary School.

The Webelos program focused on the theme, "Scientist," and featured several experiments, such as diving for pearls, egg in a bottle, coin in a glass and a floating egg.

The experimental projects were presented by Webelos Tom Kinder, David Wilson, Mike Bailey, Danny Pearson and Derek Ashoff, assisted by Webelos Leader Ralph Wilson from Pack 22.

Leaders Janet Kromray and Fran Haack of St. Elizabeth Pack 15 and Cub Scouts Bryan and Stanley Kromray, Robert Haack and Stanley Gregory led the audience in singing the "Space Derby Song."

Assistant Cubmaster Julie Rignati of Wilson School PTA Pack 122 taught the leaders how to construct space ships from paper plates, and Lola Boushard, committee chairman, and Den Leader Diane Carado, both of Maryville School PTA Pack 96, gave instructions on playing the "Astronauts and Planets" game.

In an awards ceremony, District Commissioner Fred Mercer presented bobcat patches to adults who acted as Cub Scouts during the roundtable program. They included Audrey Ellis, Commissioner John Drogazi and Patricia Whitcomb, Douglas Griggs II, Charles Artho and William Hunt, all of Bethel AME Church Pack 44.

Serving as "parents" of the Cubs were Lola Boushard, Mrs. Corrado, Mrs. Sies, Mrs. Kromray, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Haack.

Mrs. Ellis, committee chairman of Harris School Mothers Club Pack 21, gave a closing reading and pack members served refreshments. A candlelight ceremony, presented by Commissioner Pat Foote, concluded the program.

It was announced the annual Scout-O-Rama will take place Saturday, May 5, at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

The May Roundtable session will be a cookout at Shelter 5 in Wilson Park, jointly with the Boy Scouts. It was reported.

Food at the cookout will be furnished and donations will be accepted. Persons wishing to attend are asked to make reservations by calling the Scout office at 878-0686. June 2 and 3 are the dates for the Webelos Camp-O-Rite at Horsehoe Lake, Mercer announced.

INJURED DRIVER. Larry D. Webb, 40, driver of the vehicle, was injured in this one-car accident at Bissell and Refound streets, Venice, last week when his car collided with an Illinois Power Co. post, Webb, of 210 Broadway, Venice, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. He was listed in good condition at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. (Press-Record Photo)

Madison to accept bids for property, car

Members of the Madison City Council approved a motion to accept bids from persons wishing to buy a piece of property located on the west side of Madison Avenue at Fourth Street.

Alderman Thomas Gordon, chairman of the finance committee, made the motion. He said the city has no plans for development of the property. Gordon stipulated in his proposal that bidders submit 10 percent of the bid price in the form of a bank draft or a cashier's check. He said this 10 percent would later be applied to the purchase price. If that bid was accepted.

He also said that the city should enter into a binding agreement with the winning bidder on the property as to what type of building is planned, the number of employees, the dates of the beginning and end of construction and the approximate cost of the project.

The proposal also states that any failure to comply with the agreement will result in the title reverting back to the city, with the purchase price being forfeited to the city.

Before the meeting, Gordon said he and the finance committee had met with a select group of the police department to discuss next year's police budget. "We completed the first in a series of meetings tonight and we will continue on those lines with the various departments," he said. "We hope, through these hearings, to hear the voice of many committees of the city."

In other news, members approved a measure to accept a low bid on rock salt from the International Salt Company, Clarks Summit, Pa., and a bid on asphalt from MacLair Asphalt Co., Collinsville.

The council also agreed to advertise for bids for a new automobile for Alarm Supervisor and Fire Chief Mike Macek. If a bid is accepted, a 1975 Buick will be used as a trade-in on the new automobile.

Exhaust tests planned

Legislation creating a federally mandated auto emissions testing program in four Illinois counties has been introduced in the Illinois General Assembly.

"The federal government is forcing us to implement an auto emissions testing program in these areas threatening to cut off $100 million in federal highway funds to Illinois next year if we don't meet their demands," the governor said.

"WE HAVE tried to negotiate a compromise with the federal government, but they will listen no longer," he said. "We were left with no alternative but to submit this legislation to meet federal mandates."

"Through discussions between my office, the Pollution Control Board and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, we have drafted a measure that under the circumstances focuses on meeting air quality requirements in the Chicago and Metro-East regions of Illinois while providing a manageable inspection and maintenance program for vehicle owners in congested parts of the state," he said.

In addition, Thompson said he has requested that U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Administrator William Ruckelshaus meet with Illinois lawmakers to discuss the federal government's sanction process if an inspection and maintenance program is not implemented. Ruckelshaus, the governor said, indicated he would be willing to help any way he can.

AS INTRODUCED, the bill would require inspection programs for four Illinois counties, Cook, Lake, Madison and St. Clair. Car and light truck owners would be required to have their vehicles inspected once a year beginning in 1986. The legislation contains a sunset provision for the program, ending the requirements on January 1, 1991.

Other provisions of the bill, which will be sponsored by Sen. Max Coffey of Charleston, include exempting diesel-powered, farm, and antique vehicles and motorcycles, as well as vehicles weighing more than 8,000 pounds.

Under the guidelines of the bill, the Illinois EPA will propose emission standards that the Pollution Control Board must ratify and may amend, if necessary. Those standards will be the same for each county affected by the legislation.

INSPECTION FEES for the five-year program will be set by the Illinois EPA, which also is responsible for contracting with firms that will handle inspections, approving exhaust testing equipment and approving training programs for those who will inspect vehicles in the four counties.

Also included in the measure are provisions outlining the enforcement procedures and penalties for violating program standards. Under the bill, vehicle owners found guilty of not having proper inspection approval documents three or more times will be subject to a Class C misdemeanor under state motor vehicle laws.

Dean Jones gets 10-year sentence

Dean Edwin Jones, 52, of 827 Iowa St. Madison, was sentenced last week to serve 10 years in prison after Jones pleaded guilty to 19 felony counts of taking indecent liberties with a child, four felony counts of soliciting for juvenile prostitution and one misdemeanor count of contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor.

Jones was sentenced by Circuit Judge Philip J. Barker in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

He was originally arrested by Madison police on Dec. 12, when officers allegedly seized various pornographic materials, including photographs, books and video tapes on a search warrant.

Madison police based their search on a complaint made to the Madison Police Department, alleging Jones' involvement in sexual conduct and indecent liberties with a child.

Vacation pay to Part-timer angers City Hall workers

By SUSAN SIGNAIO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Representatives of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 799 lodged a complaint with Granite City's city hall committee Tuesday night, alleging payment of holidays to a part-time city hall worker. The group is proposing that an ordinance be drawn up concerning this matter.

Peggy Keltner, president of the local union, told the committee Tuesday night that the part-time worker's time slip was marked for eight hours on Good Friday, a holiday for all full-time workers. She said that the same employee had taken off four hours on April 2 and April 23 to go to the dentist and also marked each of these days with eight hours.

MRS. KELTNER said the supervisor of the department where the worker is employed is aware of the amount of hours that the person has worked and has okayed the hours when questioned about them. She said the worker already has received payment for the eight hours for April 2, but the pay for the other two dates in question are to be on the May 15 paycheck.

"My understanding of part-time workers is that if the employee does not work, the employee does not get paid," said Mrs. Keltner. She said that the city employs four other part-time employees and that none of these people marked their time sheets with eight hours on Good Friday.

"The union contract does not cover part-time people," said Mrs. Keltner. "And the city ordinance concerning part-time people covers the rate of pay they will receive, but it does not cover holidays or sick leave. We think the ordinance should include a clause to this effect."

"I THINK BY doing this (paying the worker), the city is paying for something they are not getting," said Lucretia Wright, one of the members of the worker's group. "And I think that if the city is going to do it for one of the part-time employees, it should do it for all of the part-time employees."

"If I go to the dentist, I have to use part of my sick pay. I don't think it's fair that this worker gets paid outright."

According to Mrs. Keltner, the employee is considered a part-time worker, despite the fact that the person is scheduled for 40 hours a week. "This worker has been asked to become full-time, but has refused, so we don't feel that this person should be given full-time benefits."

SHE SAID that the employee is the only part-timer to work 40 hours on a permanent basis. The worker has been employed for the past 18 months. The person is not in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

"We don't want to persecute this person, but we don't feel it's right," said Mrs. Keltner. She said that the payment for the Good Friday holiday was the first time this person had been paid for a holiday. "This is a new problem," she said.

"We are not filing a formal grievance. We are bringing this to the attention of this committee because we are hoping that it can be resolved quickly," said Mrs. Keltner. "Our group wants to avoid causing anyone to become upset, but we don't think this treatment is fair."

ALDERMAN Lloyd Bailey, a member of the city hall and building committee, said he agrees with the group. "I know it's not right, but I think that the problem may be better resolved by cutting this employee back to 38 hours."

Alderman Casmer Skubish, chairman of the city hall and buildings committee, said he will turn the matter over to the negotiating committee for action.

Charge driver with car theft

Floyd L. Wallace, 38, of 612 Alton Ave., Madison, was charged with felony theft in an informational document issued Monday through the Madison County state's attorney's office.

Wallace was injured during the weekend following a high speed chase which ended when the vehicle he was driving struck a utility pole at 20th Street and Grand Avenue, continued on and hit a second pole in an alley at the rear of 1934 Grand Ave.

The second crash, which broke the pole off at ground level, resulted in Wallace being thrown from the vehicle and he was lying on the pavement when the pursuing officer pulled alongside.

Wallace was injured, but conscious, reports noted. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred at 11:15 a.m. Monday to John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis, it was learned.

The 1969 Chrysler Imperial had no registration plates and allegedly was stolen from a rear parking area at Granite City Chrysler-Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, reports said.

Recover items stolen in GC

Curtis A. Ray, 17, of 2127 Fourteenth St., was charged with burglary in an informational document issued Monday through the Madison County state's attorney's office.

A mittimus was issued in a court appearance the same day and he was transferred Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

The charge related to the April 26 burglary of the World of Life Tapes, 12th Street and Meridian Avenue, in which items worth $2,170 were taken.

Granite City detectives, accompanied by a Madison officer, went to an address on Second Street in Madison early this week and recovered some musical items stolen from the church.

A woman at the Second Street address was advised that the police were seeking musical equipment, and she was quoted as saying some items were in the basement of the house.

Found in the basement were a set of drums, cymbals and accessories, a guitar in a tan case, a bass guitar in a grey case, twin amplifiers and a guitar strobe tuner.

A 15-year-old youth at the dwelling was transferred to the Granite City police department and the recovered property was turned over to the custody of the Granite City detectives. Not all the missing property was recovered, it was learned.

Suspect escapes

Warrants were issued alleging burglary and escape yesterday against Robert Earl Johnson, 22, of 53 Garesche Homes, Madison.

Johnson was charged with burglary by Venice police at 2:05 a.m. Tuesday, after they allegedly found him hiding in the basement of the Venice Liquor Store, 324 Broadway, Venice. Police had observed two cash registers open on the floor at the time of the arrest and the whole store had been ransacked.

Johnson was booked at the station but escaped when police unhooked him to take him to his cell. Officers had pursued him, using a K-9 unit dog, but the dog lost Johnson's scent at Bissell and West Third streets.

dealership, who came to the crash scene, authorities said.

Wallace also was charged with fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer, driving while his license was revoked, disobeying a traffic control device and driving without headlights.
